LOSS $1,000,000 IN BUCYRUS FIRE

Admits Shooting

Woman Slain In Columbus, Youth Is Held

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A tiny crib stood at the foot of the still bloody bed. Soft white blankets edged in satin were gently folded over its sides in anticipation of a birth, perhaps a Christmas child.

But the birth will never come. The expectant mother, Mrs. Janice Ora Porter, 24, is dead, victim of a savage assault and a bullet in the brain.

Her body, trussed with twine, gagged and blindfolded, was discovered Tuesday by her father-in-law when he returned to his home near here where she and her husband lived.

Sheriff's deputies arrested David S. Smith, 20, who lived just up the road from the brutal slaying scene, and said he admitted the killing. He is being held for investigation of murder.

Smith was quoted as saying he had planned for two or three days to criminally assault the young mother-to-be.

Deputies said Mrs. Porter, who was expecting her first child in a few days, apparently was ironing when Smith knocked on her door and asked if she had seen his missing cat.

Found .22 Revolver

But he came back a second time, he told authorities, and found a .22 caliber revolver in the Porter home. Smith said he didn't feel that Mrs. Porter knew he was in the house.

Investigators said he came upon her with the gun in his hand, blindfolded and gagged her; then, after assaulting her, shot her in the forehead. However, Coroner Robert Evans said she was not raped in the legal sense of the word.

When found, her hands were crossed behind her and bound with twine, Sheriff Stacy Hall related. She was lying on her back on a bed, her clothes ripped open.

Deputies were led to Smith by footprints in the snow from the victim's house to his, about 100 yards away.

Part-Time Student

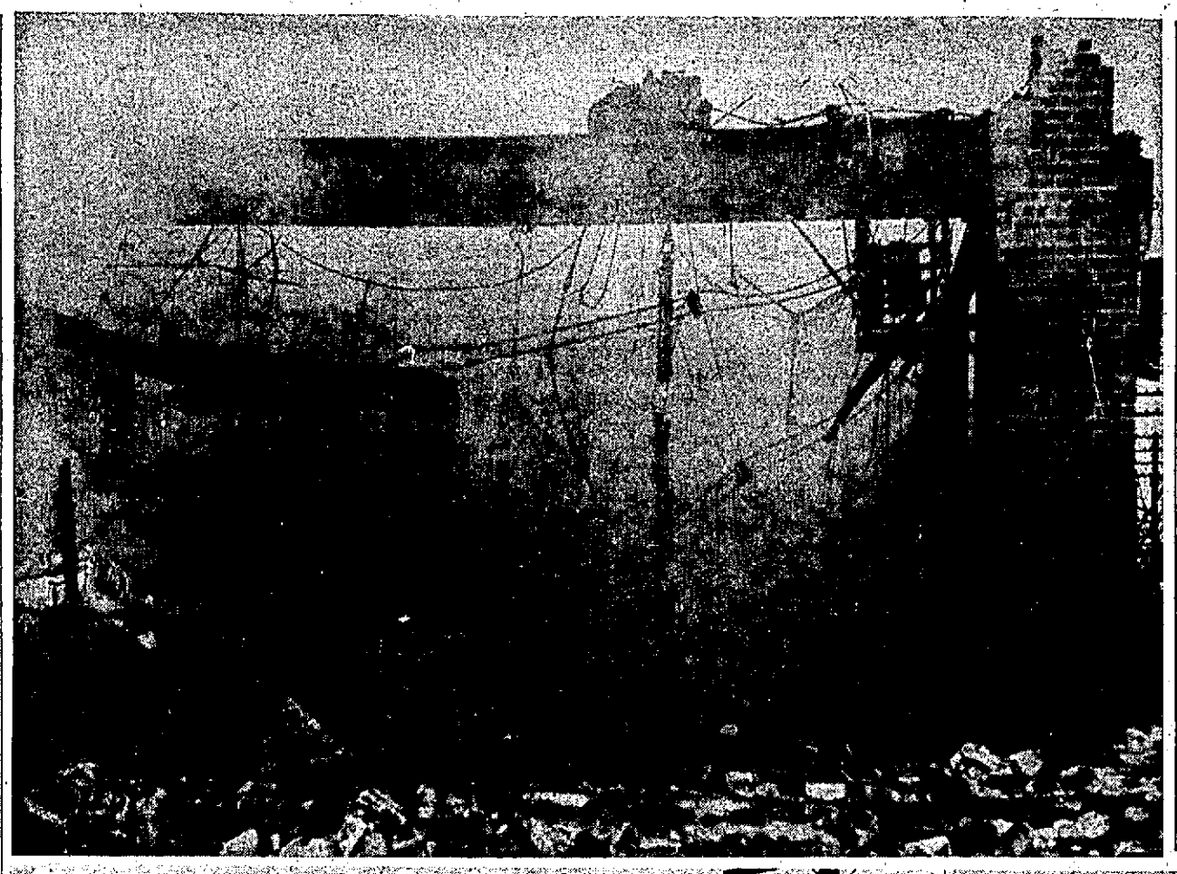
Smith is a part-time student at Ohio State University, where Mrs. Porter's husband, Myron, 26, is a senior in the college of dentistry.

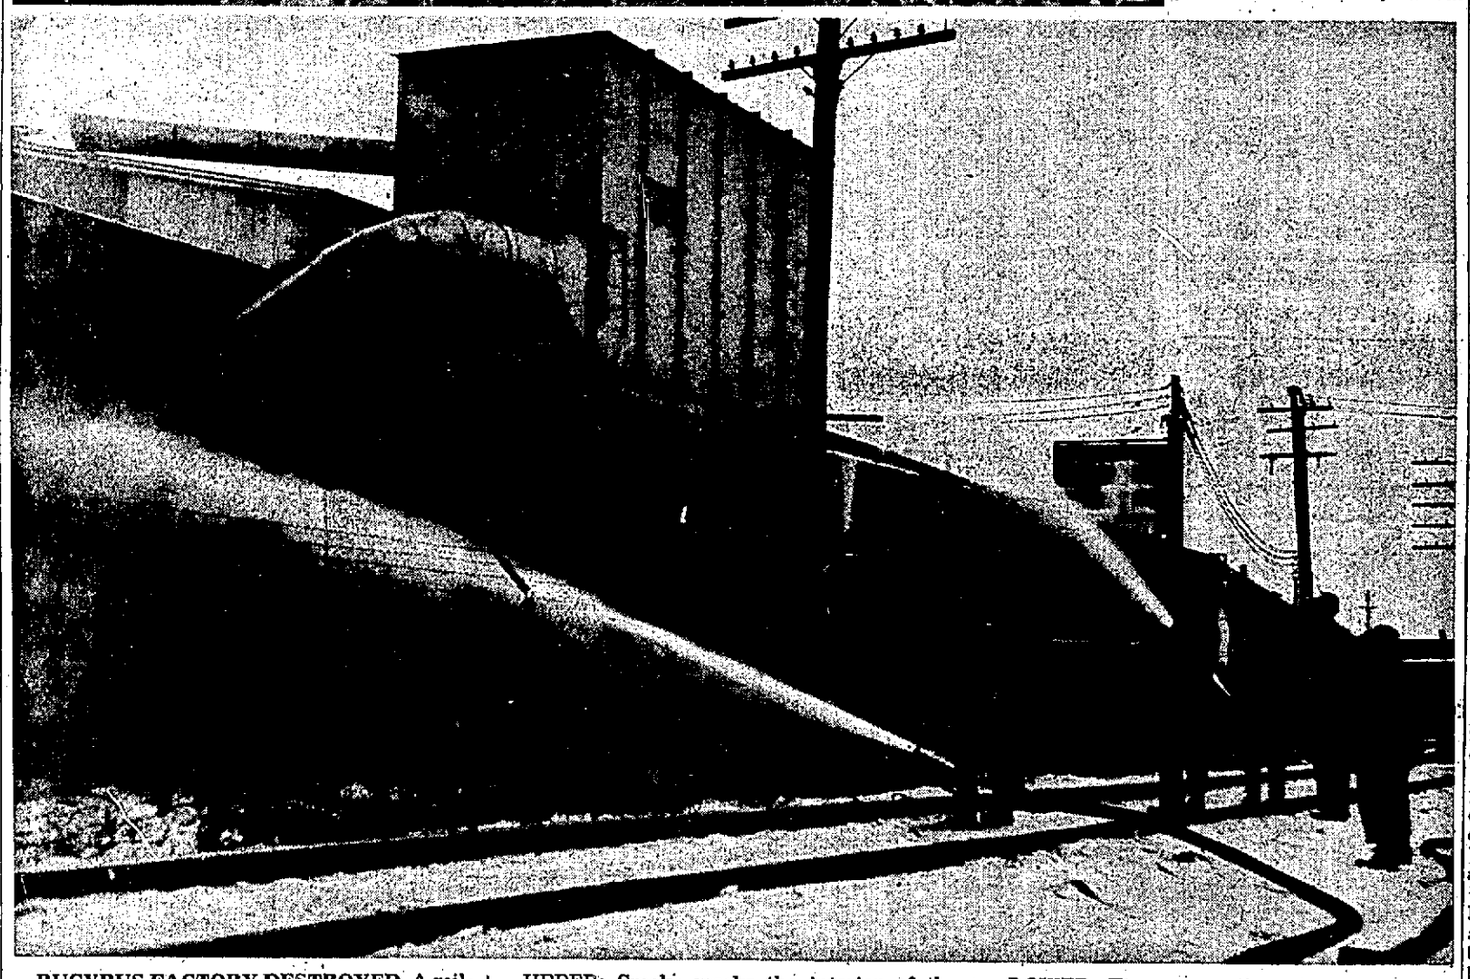
The husband stared through a picture window in the new ranch type home and sobbed, "Everything's gone. Everything's gone now."

He clenched and unclenched his fists as he paced the floor. Finally he sat down in a chair and cried out: "Oh, no. God, it can't be."

When Dr. Evans, arrived at the home, he bent over the body of the attractive young mother, listening for a heartbeat in the hope that immediate surgery might save the unborn child. There was no heartbeat.

In Mrs. Porter's room, books on infant care line the dresser to the right of the bed where she was found.





BUCYRUS FACTORY DESTROYED. A million-dollar fire this morning destroyed the Crawford Foundry Co. factory in Bucyrus. The blaze broke out about 3 a.m. and the whole building was blazing within an hour. UPPER: Smoke masks the interior of the building which was completely destroyed. Men from the Bucyrus and Galion Fire departments were on hand to keep the fire from spreading to nearby homes. LOWER: Firemen continue to pour water into the ruins at 8 o'clock this morning. Some 600,000 gallons of water were pumped into the structure. The company employed about 100 hourly workers and 25 salaried employes.

Early Morning Blaze Destroys Steel Foundry

BUCYRUS — Fire early this morning destroyed the Crawford Steel Foundry Co. factory on the south side of Bucyrus. Damage was estimated at about a million dollars.

This was the second major industrial fire within 10 days in Crawford County. On Dec. 7 fire destroyed the Sharkey Machinery, Inc., building in Galion with a loss estimated at $200,000.

The fire here broke out about 3 a.m. in the northeast corner of the structure. Officials said it started in an office or locker room.

Within 45 minutes, eyewitnesses said, the entire building was engulfed in flames.

Bucyrus Fire Chief Ralph Mead said the men on his force, aided by three men and a pumper truck from the Galion Fire Department, had the blaze under control in about two hours so there was no danger of its spreading to other buildings.

Working with the Bucyrus chief were nine regular firemen and 14 "call men" from Bucyrus. The Bucyrus force had two pumper trucks on the scene.

Galion firemen were called at 3:30. The Bucyrus call for help was answered by the pumper truck manned by Capt. Joel Martien and firemen Leo and Robert Fabian. They returned to Galion a little after 9 o'clock.

Firemen were still pouring water into the smoldering ruins at 10 o'clock this morning. Only the brick walls remained standing.

600,000 Gallons of Water

R. L. Simpson, superintendent of the Bucyrus water works, reported that some 600,000 gallons of water were poured into the fire from the time it broke out until 8 o'clock. He said the firemen had no trouble with frozen lines during the blaze.

Chief Mead said it was impossible at the present time to determine what caused the fire. One resident of the neighborhood reported hearing what sounded like an explosion, but company officials discounted this idea.

W. J. Phillips, vice president and general manager, said the night watchman told hm there was no explosion. "He was in the other end of the building when the fire started and heard no blast," Mr. Phillips said.

Sold Last Week

The firm had changed hands only last week as the Miller Manufacturing Co. of Monroe, Mich., purchased the factory. Walter Michael had been president before the sale. J. W. McDougal is president of the Monroe, Mich., firm. The factory here retained its name and all personnel with the exception of Mr. Michael.

There are about 100 hourly employes and 25 salaried workers on the company payroll now, one company official said.

The loss is covered by insurance.

Estimates of the loss varied. Fire Chief Mead said it was about $500,000 as far as he could tell from a quick survey of the building. Mr. Phillips said the loss was closer to a million. Another official who declined to be named placed the loss at a million to a million and one-quarter dollars. All three said a complete inventory will have to be made before the exact loss can be determined.

The company made electrical steel castings.

The building was a 200-foot long, one-story brick and wood structure. It was an old building and had been put up before the turn of the century.

Founded in 1937

The Crawford Steel Foundry Co. was founded in 1937 by Mr. Michael who also is president of the Ohio Locomotive Crane Co. which is located just a short distance from the factory destroyed this morning.

Agents of the Neff and Dostal Insurance firm here, which holds the insurance account for the foundry, called the building "a million dollar plant." They, too, said there could be no official estimate of the damage until a complete investigation is made.

They added, though, that there appeared some possibility that some of the equipment inside the structure might be saved.

Shoppers Trapped in Store

Fire in Colombia Capital Claims 82

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Fire bred panic in a Bogota department store crowded with Christmas shoppers Tuesday night and sent scores of panic-stricken men, women and children to death.

Officials said 82 persons were killed and 50 injured. Most of them made a fatal wild scramble for a rear stairway that led only to a mezzanine.

Some died with toys in their arms. Others kneeled as if in prayer.

"The panic spread very quickly," said Alberto Mazuera, the manager.

Explosion of holiday lights had fired the clothing of salesgirls and sent a curtain of flame across the center of the long, narrow store, named Vida, on Septima Carrera avenue near the Capitol.

Customers Start Riot

Mazuera said customers started bolting when they saw the salesgirls' clothing afire.

Those in front of the store had easy access to the street.

About half of the dead were employes of the store. The remainder were mostly women shoppers. It was estimated 10 children died in the fire, which raged for two hours before being brought under control.

A 16-year-old girl was found alive beneath a mass of bodies on the stairway. Her condition was critical.

The panic was heightened by the crowd's difficulty in getting out of the store, which was quite long but only 23 feet wide.

Rear Escape Route Blocked

The fire broke out in the middle of the store. Those in front escaped to the street. Those in the back of the store were cut off by a sheet of flames.

Fire extinguishers along the walls were ignored.

Alberto Mazuera, manager of the store, said that when the Christmas lights exploded "The fire went up to the ceiling in a burst of smoke."

"The store was full of people," he said. "I called the people to be quiet and calm and asked for the fire extinguishers and immediately called the firemen.

"Unfortunately panic spread

50,000 Acres Charred, Loss Rises

2,000 Men Still Fighting Brush Fire in California

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—Tragedy and sorrow lie today in the wake of a four-day brush fire that has flared over more than 50,000 acres of Southern California hills and canyons and is still out of control on nearly half its 75-mile perimeter.

While more than 2,000 men fight the stubborn flames, residents pick their way over the blackened earth to the ruins of their homes and summer cabins. Eighteen structures have been destroyed. More than 200 are still in peril.

In picturesque San Juan Canyon, scenic beauty is turned to rubble and ashes.

The canyon people who have returned share the common sadness of loss.

There is Joe Paseri. He came to the canyon to make his home in 1942. Beside the house was a great oak tree. Joe, 77, spent many a day relaxing beneath its branches.

Driven out by the fire, Joe came back to the ruins of his cabin, the black skeleton of the oak and the charred table beneath it.

"I don't know what to do," he said. "I feel like crying."

He reached into the ashes and picked up half of a figurine.

"St. Anthony," he said. "My wife's patron saint."

He sat down beside a blackened metal box, once his refrigerator. He cried.

There is Henry Emberg, who

Cash Gifts Will Aid Poor

Fancy Christmas Meal Wish of Many Persons

A piping hot turkey drenched in gravy with all the trimmings, shimmering cranberry sauce, candied sweet potatoes, a bounty of fruit and mince pie to top off the meal.

These are the dishes that will appear on many a Marion Christmas banquet table. But other holiday boards will be bare except for scant rations which make up the daily monotonous menu.

Workers at the Give-a-Christmas clearinghouse hope to make the dream of a delectable holiday dinner reality for the scores of such indigent families and individuals listed in their files.

The best way to contribute a Christmas dinner to these unfortunates is not by a food basket, but cash donations, Mrs. Howard Williams, clearinghouse chairman, reported today.

She noted that although food baskets are welcome, often they do not contain the items which appeal to the tastes of the indigent family.

And one of the greatest gifts for the person who must walk by appetizing items in a grocery store is to put money in their hands to choose the foods they want the most to make Christmas dinner a memorable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. F. have known hardship for several years. But they thank God they are still together and have been able to keep their small apartment.

The 61-year-old man worked

How To Make a Gift

To give a Christmas, telephone 3-2313 or visit clearinghouse headquarters at the Salvation Army Citadel, corner of Windsor and W. Church streets, for names of indigent persons or families. Cash contributions particularly are needed. Make checks payable to Give-a-Christmas and send to clearinghouse headquarters.

Action Is Held Up on Shovel's Injunction Bid

A hearing on an injunction sought by the Marion Power Shovel Co. against the United Steel Workers union was continued indefinitely Tuesday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith.

Attorneys for the company and union issued this statement following a conference with the judge:

"At the suggestion of the court, the hearing on a motion for a temporary injunction has been continued with picketing to be conducted in a peaceful manner. The court indicated that in the event of any emergency situation, a hearing on the motion will be immediately reset."

Union officials were notified of the judge's order in a conference with attorneys in the jury room.

The company filed its petition for a court order Nov. 28. It sought to restrain the union from interference with plant operations during the strike which entered its 14th week today.

Representing the company is the local law firm of Strelitz, Halberstein and Mitchell. Herschel Kriger of Canton is counsel for the union.

Meanwhile the Local 1949 bargaining committee was to meet at 1:30 p.m. today with a federal mediator at the company's W. Center St. plant.

Thor Launching Successful

First Ballistic Missile Is Fired From West Coast

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Out in the vast Pacific lies a symbol of might—the nose cone of the first ballistic missile launched at this West Coast base.

Neither the Air Force nor the Navy will make any attempt to recover the cone, hurled 1,500 miles across the Pacific missile range Tuesday. Yet it deserves a place in some museum of scientific endeavor.

For the cone of the medium range Thor missile, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead, marks America's first firing of a ballistics missile under combat conditions. It shows the Thor is moving from the development stage to the operational.

Second Fired From Cape

Another Thor was fired Tuesday night from Cape Canaveral, Fla., giving the United States its first double-barreled rocket shoot from both coasts. The weapon appeared to perform perfectly. It was fired as part of the close-out phase of the Air Force IRBM research and development program.

Here at Vandenberg, a regular Air Force crew pushed some buttons and the 50-ton weapon soared some 300 miles up to the fringes of space. The blastoff came only 11 minutes after the 11-man crew raised the Thor upright and began filling it with liquid fuel.

Unlike firings at Cape Canaveral, this was no test of an experimental rocket. No civilian experts hovered over their instruments watching for performance flaws that could be corrected in later models.

This was entirely a military operation, demonstrating that the Air Force has now developed combat crews to fire missiles.

Faces Targetward

Two-and-one-half minutes after the first sign of fire in its tail, the missile was racing targetward at a speed of 9,000 miles an hour. Seconds later the fuel tank section of the missile fell away and was burned up by friction as it reentered the earth's atmosphere.

The nose cone sped on, reaching its maximum speed of 10,000 miles an hour before plunging back through the atmosphere to its impact area 1,500 miles away.

Maj. Gen. David Wade, commander of the 1st Missile Division, said the shot was a great success, despite a 3-hour, 28-minute delay in the final half-hour of the countdown caused by minor technical adjustments. Several additional minutes were lost waiting for three trains to rumble across the base, which lies on the state's main north-south rail route.

Mao Stepping Down

Resignation of Leader Is Confirmed by Peiping

TOKYO (AP)—Mao Tze-tung is stepping down as President of Red China, Peiping confirmed today, but it insisted he is still boss.

After keeping it secret a week, Peiping radio let China's 600 millions in on the news The shift was reported last weekend on Formosa, and Warsaw diplomats got confirmation Tuesday.

Despite Peiping's disclaimer, there was a feeling in Hong Kong, Seoul and Nationalist Formosa that Mao is being downgraded by the Communist apparatus and will eventually be stripped of power.

Based on Reports

This opinion is based largely on reports of popular resentment in China over the commune system, which deprives the Chinese of their individuality and puts them to live in communities where their every action is subject to strict orders from above

Peiping's broadcast today gave no clue on Mao's successor but speculation has centered around Marshal Chu Teh, now vice chairman of the government Chu, at 72, is seven years older than Mao. They have long been comrades in arms

Fearful of undermining the Red China regime or even planting the seeds for a possible revolt, the Communist party Central Committee emphasized that Mao was stepping down voluntarily.

Term Expires in January

Mao's four-year term as head of government expires in January. But he will remain in the powerful post as chairman of the Communist party The People's Congress meets in Peiping next month to elect the chief of government.

Foreign diplomats drew varying impressions from Mao's retirement

U S and British foreign officials took the view that Mao remained as powerful as ever. Some diplomats in Communist Poland felt that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had a hand in the maneuver—or at least welcomed it

Mao stands as a potential rival to Khrushchev as the high apostle of world communism

The Chinese Communist party's communique sought to set at rest reports that grumbling over the communes was a factor in Mao's decision

The communique declared the commune program to speed up production will be carried on

The Chinese leaders used caution in their communique to avoid creating even the slightest implication that Mao was forced out because of any errors.

The 65-year-old leader of the Chinese Communist revolution has been pictured as the all-knowing guide and counselor who makes no mistakes. Much of the tightly regimented structure of Red China has been built around this picture

Any clouding of the picture could cause cracks in the Communist control system. This would be especially true if there were any hint the change involved controversy over the new commune system, which is smashing revered family traditions to force people into work camps.

Admits Problem

Foreign Minister Chen Yi, in telling the diplomats of the change, admitted the Chinese people would be disturbed by the news. Chen reportedly said the decision would be announced in a way "to banish all fear and apprehension

Indications are that this will be done by playing up the traditional Chinese reverence for the scholar. The people apparently will be told that Mao is relinquishing one post to devote more time to study and writing

Yugoslav Communists said privately, however, that Mao had lost influence and power Opinion was divided in the Yugoslav capital whether a more moderate or more extreme faction would succeed Mao

State Department officials in Washington were reported convinced that no policy change was involved and that Mao still controlled Red China But Chinese Nationalists on Formosa speculated that Mao, in trouble at home and in relations with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, was slipping The Nationalists did not expect policy changes either, however

McNamara Quits Fair Board Post

Dr J. G McNamara, an active member of the Marion County Fair Board for 20 years, has resigned his post, citing reasons of health for the action, Paul W Augenstein, fair board president, announced today,

Charles D England of 194 E Walnut St. has been appointed by the board to fill the remaining one year of Dr. McNamara's current term, Mr Augenstein said

Dr. McNamara was in charge of the speed department of the county fair for many years and championed fair improvements in all areas.

Mr Augenstein also reported today that representatives from the county fair board will attend a district meeting in Kenton Thursday to discuss plans for 1959 fairs in this area

Bring Gifts for Children

Crawford Home Heads Back From World Jaunt

GALION — Like any other children left at home while their parents go on a trip, the 54 youngsters at the Crawford County Children's Home here were anxious to see what their "parents" would bring them.

The "parents," Marvin O Adams and his wife, Lucille, superintendent and assistant superintendent at the home, brought gifts from 16 different countries which they visited on a 30,000-mile trip that took them around the world.

They returned Thursday, Dec. 11, from attending the Ninth International Conference of Social Work held Nov 30-Dec 6 in Tokyo, Japan. The Adamses circled the globe going to and from Tokyo.

BEFORE THEY left Galion they asked the children to choose the country from which they wanted a gift. The youngsters received their gifts Sunday night when they gathered in the big dining room of the home where they heard Supt. and Mrs. Adams describe their travels. The home enrollment increased by eight new members since the Adamses left Galion late in October.

Perhaps the biggest gift they brought back was one that could not be seen, but one that will be told over and over again. It is the gift of gratitude for living in this country. It was felt by the Galion couple after observing the way of life in other countries they visited. In India, Burma, Pakistan, and Thailand where economic conditions are much the same, the Adamses noted famine and starvation prevalent among the refugee settlements.

"Illiteracy among the people is so great that it is almost impossible to change their way of living," Mr. Adams explained. The conditions were most deplorable in areas of India, Pakistan and other countries in that part of the world where there are no sanitary facilities for humanity. Animals, considered sacred, such as the Brahma cattle, goats, sheep, dogs and cats have the same rights and privileges as people They wander along the streets with the crowds much as they did in Biblical times, the Adamses observed.

AN EXPERIENCE in Tokyo which the Galion couple will remember was their introduction to the crown prince who later was a speaker at the conference and to Michiko Shoda, the commoner who will marry the prince.

The Adamses were invited and accepted the hospitality of a Japanese man of high rank at dinner. They were amazed at the reception they were given and the gifts bestowed on Mrs. Adams This family later went many miles out of their way to see the Adamses off at the airport

The film story of the Crawford County Children's Home made by a professional company in Cleveland was shown Dec 4 at the general assembly of the conference. It was the only one selected for showing from the United States and was one of 28 films from 25 countries shown.

Leaving here Oct. 24, the Adamses visited New York, Paris, Rome, Athens, Karachi, New Delhi, Calcutta, Cairo, Rangoon, Bangkok, Manila, Hong Kong, Okinawa, Tokyo, Honolulu and San Francisco. They were disappointed in their stop at Cairo where they had wanted to see the Pyramids, but instead were held on the second floor of the airport until the next plane arrived to carry them across the desdrt for Karachi.

THEY TRAVELED with a party of 10 people, including one each from Toronto and Montreal, Canada, Fort Wayne, New York City and Chicago and three from Boston.

In their travels they had the very best accommodations. A hotel in New Delhi was one of the finest in the world. Mrs. Adams enjoyed a shopping spree in Hong Kong, a shopper's paradise.

Plans for Merger Studied by Forest, Wharton Districts

FOREST — A possible merger of the Forest and Wharton school districts is under active consideration by the two boards of education.

Educational advantages of a merger were discussed by the board at a meeting Saturday and will be the chief topic at a second meeting soon.

Tax valuation of a combined district would be $12,737,833, the boards learned Total enrollment in the two districts is 840. Of these, 232 are in the upper four grades.

Board members discussed the need for an industrial arts program in both schools in order to meet high school standards. Members said they felt it might be more feasible to add industrial arts after a merger of the schools

If a merger is accomplished, plans call for Forest to handle all high school students All 7th and 8th grade pupils would attend Wharton.

Plates To Be Colorful

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Every Ohio motorist will help observe Kent State University's 50th anniversary in 1960. Ohio's auto license plates will have blue letters on a gold background — Kent State's school colors.

Eight bridges crossing the Willamette and Columbia rivers, near Portland, Ore., have been painted eight different colors to become better traffic guides.

Marion's Social Security Staff's Efficiency Lauded

Teamwork and superior performance of duties have brought cash awards totaling $618 to eight employes of the Marion office of the Social Security Administration.

Marking the first time such group awards have been made in the history of the organization, they were made to staff members in offices which processed at least 15 per cent more work per person than the national average during 1957.

Only the Marion and Lima offices qualified for the awards in Ohio. During the peak period the Marion office staff exceeded the national average by 64 per cent and the Lima office exceeded it by 31 per cent. The Marion office also was 44 per cent better than the regional average.

Local staff members sharing in the $618.66 award are: Miss Dorothy Hilbert, manager, Dale M. Averill, Miss Barbara Burke, Mrs. Imogene Jones, Miss Eva Justice, Mrs. Evelyn Kindell, Mrs. Ruth Swambaugh and Miss Helen Zwayer. Only employes who were on duty for at least six months during 1957 were eligible.

In announcing receipt of the awards, the local office explained that the unusual volume of work for which the awards were made resulted from changes made in the social security law in 1954 and 1956. These changes brought social security coverage to self-employed farmers, provided cash benefits for totally disabled persons over 50 and enabled women to qualify for benefits at 62. All this resulted in the biggest work load ever faced by the local office staff, the announcement noted.

A summary of the circumstances prepared by Miss Hilbert, before she went to Baltimore recently on special assignment, said that despite the extra load, the local staff "maintained high standards of public service and performed all other district office activities."

She wrote further that the record accomplished by teamwork and superior performance represents a savings of 6,734 man hours applied in processing the heavy workload without an increase in cost.

The announcement of the awards noted that they are part of a continuing effort to improve the Federal Civil Service which is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year.

Shoulder Dislocated

Christmas Party Held By National City Bank

Bonus checks were distributed to approximately 100 persons when a Christmas dinner party for National City Bank employes and their families was held Tuesday night in the Harding Hotel ballroom.

During the evening's entertainment, youngsters received gifts from one of Santa's helpers, an elf. Robert Nelson, Ohio Wesleyan University student, demonstrated several magician acts.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner program was Harold Baker of the bank's main office. More than 200 persons attended the holiday event.

Rotary Learns of Problems

Colleges Soon To Bulge With Youths, Club Told

The outlook for modern education in the United States was covered by Dr. H. L. Yochum, president of Capital University, in a talk entitled "The Six B's" before the Marion Rotary Club at Hotel Harding Tuesday noon.

Because of time limitations the speaker discussed only five "B's." They were bulge, brains, books, bricks and bucks. The sixth "B," which he said is the topic of a separate talk, was basics.

The "bulge" in education today has been created by the tremendous impetus stemming from Russia's Sputnik, and from the birth rate.

IT IS ESTIMATED that by 1970 there will be 7,000,000 college and university students in the United States—twice the number enrolled today.

The percentage of high school students going to college today is 34 per cent. This figure is expected to rise to 40 per cent by 1970, Dr. Yochum said.

The enrollment bulge really will start hitting the colleges in 1964 and in Ohio the total is expected to double by 1970.

Discussing "brains," the second "B," the speaker pointed out the tremendous importance of teachers in the education of our children.

Ohio has approximately 68,000 teachers but needs 8,000 to 10,000 new ones each year, and is producing only 5,800 to 6,000, he said.

State universities are accounting for 49 per cent of the annual teacher output, municipal universities 9 per cent, and private colleges 41 per cent, he revealed.

IN THE LAST 10 years more than one-third of the private college graduates have gone into teaching, he said.

Libraries and books are of great importance to the student, he said in touching on the third "B," and young people should be encouraged to do a lot of outside reading.

"Bricks," the fourth "B," dealt with the importance of proper buildings on the college campus, and "bucks" with the eternal need for money to provide adequate service and keep the books balanced.

The student, on the average, pays only about two-thirds of the annual cost of his education in a private institution today, he said. The rest comes from alumni, churches, individuals and businesses.

He expressed his appreciation to three local contributors to the Ohio foundation for independent colleges—the American Malleable Casting Co., Fairfield Engineering Co. and Ben Peterson of Berlou Manufacturing Co. and Na-Churs Plant Food Co.

The speaker was introduced by George Alber, program chairman for December.

Leon McCorkle of Waldo was inducted into the club as a new member.

Guests were introduced by Marion Shank.

J. L. Patterson of Cardington and George J. Haase of Toledo were visiting Rotarians. Other guests were Harold Morrison of Benton Harbor, Mich., Joseph Thompson of Sandusky, and James Helwig, John Rawl, Robert Byrd, Robert S. Brown and the Rev. Eugene Hilp, all of Marion.

Two Vehicles Damaged

BUCYRUS — A lime spreader and a car were only slightly damaged in a Rt. 98 collision which occurred one-half mile south of Bucyrus at 11 a.m. Tuesday, patrolmen reported today.

They said the northbound auto driven by Lawrence J. Feidner, 31, of Columbus was attempting to pass the lime spreader truck driven by Donald K. Sherman, 19, of near Bucyrus, when the latter vehicle attempted a left turn and the two collided.

When Experts Weigh the Evidence

From now until year-end and for some few weeks after, the experts will be deep in calculations of the past, present and future—business-wise.

They are weighing the evidence as it comes to hand by reports, surmises, forebodings and thumb-sucking. They expect to conclude that on the whole there are more rays of sunshine in the black night of despair than they were able to find a year ago when the rising tide of unemployment was running a dead heat with the ebbing tide of production. Since then, things have been looking better.

At the very worst, they have been looking less bad. There has been a slowdown in the slowdown, or to turn it the other way around the pickup in the slowdown hasn't been as rapid as it was when politicians were yelling a year ago to run for the hills because it looked like a long dry spell ahead and the dam was going to burst.

There has been a recession in the recession, which is the same thing as an ascent in the descent. Things are not, of course, as good as they are going to be when they get good, but they are not as bad as they were when they were bad. Unemployment is not falling off as rapidly as employment is picking up, but that — as many other things—must be blamed on seasonal factors, which is to blame for all things not blameable on unseasonable factors, such as no snow before Christmas, which this year has overdone it so that too much snow is as unseasonable as no snow at all.

Or to put it in two-syllable words, there has been a decrease in the increase of the downturn. The pickup is, to put it mildly, more than a tossup at long last, which experts construe to be a point somewhere between the beginning of the first and the end of the fourth quarter of 1959.

'Brinkmanship' Works Both Ways

There is no comfort for the millions whose lives would be lost and upset by a war over the unsettled issue of Berlin in repeating what is obviously true—that no one wants war to happen.

Premier Khrushchev doesn't want it to happen any more than President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain, or Charles de Gaulle of France. Everybody concerned with the issue of Berlin is hoping for a solution to the problem that will avert violence.

The source of the trouble is delay. The issue of Berlin has been permitted to hang fire for lack of the statesmanship that could have closed it long before this. All that Premier Khrushchev has done is to force the issue, as he could have been expected to do.

The Soviet Union has the strongest motive to force the issue. Berlin is in East Germany, not in West Germany. Had the situation been reversed at the close of World War II and an outpost of Soviet influence been set up in the Allied zone of occupation, the Western Allies would have had the same motive to force a settlement.

In 1955, they were successful in making an agreement with the Soviet Union to demilitarize Austria. It was the hope at that time that a similar agreement might be reached to demilitarize Germany, but the hope was shattered by a collision between the conflicting aims of the Kremlin and the Western Allies.

The Kremlin wants to eliminate the threat of Germany militarism to Russian security. It wants to exert control over German policy, because it fears a resurgence of German power to wage war.

The Western Allies, on the other hand, are interested in the possibility of making Germany—all of Germany, if possible, and West Germany in any event a self-sufficient "buffer state" between Russia and themselves. These conflicting aims collided in 1955. They are colliding again now. They will collide until and unless a settlement is reached.

Premier Khrushchev is hopeful that he can speed a settlement by threatening to force the Western Allies out of their outpost in West Berlin. The Western Allies are hopeful they can forestall Khrushchev's version of a settlement and aid their own version by defending the status quo.

They have the disadvantage in their brinksmanship of defending what they, themselves, have acknowedged must be corrected against Premier Khrushchev, whose brinksmanship consists of demanding a correction.

One for the Philadelphia Lawyers

If you are lined up with the wage theorists who think working rates for U.S. labor can be improved without regard to the cost of goods and services, Philadelphia has a problem you can help its lawyers to solve.

A 22-million-dollar bond issue to buy new subway cars was passed by Philadelphia voters. The contract for the cars will be let in the near future. One of the bidders is expected to be a Japanese firm, which has a good chance of underbidding U.S. competitors, including a Philadelphia firm whose employes need the work.

Unless the Philadelphia lawyers who help the city make legal decisions can find a way to exclude the Japanese firm from the open bidding required by law, a case of political dynamite may be detonated. The likeliest loophole, according to The Wall Street Journal's account of the dilemma, is the proviso that contracts must be made to the "lowest responsible bidder." It might be possible to discover that the Japanese firm which is thinking about putting in a bid was not "responsible."

But that would be only a legal way out. The economic problem that had created the legal problem, if it materializes, would not have been solved. That is the problem of how to keep U.S. enterprise from pricing itself out of the market, not only abroad but at home.

Philadelphia lawyers never will solve that one. It is going to require economic statesmanship, the quality that has been visibly lacking in the thinking of men who have not learned yet that high wage rates without jobs are meaningless.

Streamlined Operation

The revision of the Marion Community Foundation constitution and by-laws to bring them up to date is another example of the continuing effort to keep the operation as streamlined as possible.

The top level welfare direction in Marion is not always completely understood by the citizenry at large because it stems from two organizations—the Community Foundation and United Appeals.

The basic and important difference is that the Foundation is a year-around organization that deals actively with the administration of its agencies.

United Appeals, on the other hand, exists solely for the purpose of raising money for the Community Foundation plus those other agencies that are not a part of the Foundation.

A tremendous amount of effort from private citizens goes into both organizations, much of it behind the scenes.

The Foundation constitution revision committee, headed by Edwin Oliphant, is typical of these groups which labor quietly but effectively on the community's behalf.

Going-Concern Value

The County Engineers Assn. put its support behind a number of ideas at its convention in Columbus, such as any and all ideas for increasing revenue available for building highways. That is understandable, because county engineers know about the need for highways.

But it would be reassuring if the association had said something about the rising threat to the going-concern value of the automobile as a revenue producer. The threat is rising in Washington and in every state capital.

It is the possibility that revenue-hungry officials will blunder into the point of diminishing returns without realizing what they are doing.

All those itty-bitty foreign cars that are popular in the United States and the smaller domestic cars proving popular here are blunt reminders to Americans that exorbitant taxes on auto fuel, licenses, auto production and auto use in general create a desire to shrink the tax yield as a matter of individual self-preservation.

Europeans didn't invent tiny cars because they disliked big cars but because they couldn't afford to pay the taxes their revenue-raisers kept slapping on the auto industry and its customers.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Our worldwide scout, in charge of investigating six- to eight-hour chats, wires, what he says, is the first recording of the Sen. Humphrey-Nikita Khrushchev talk:

Hubert: Thanks for agreeing to a good long talk.

Nikita: If I'd known you were coming I would have baked a day-and-night upside-down cake.

Hubert: I always say there are two types of talkers — the sprinters and the long distance.

Nikita: I am informed by my clockers that you are the distance type.

Hubert: Clockers?

Nikita: Yes; they keep track of the time of the world's best distance talkers. Their report shows you have remarkable form. I think I should get a handicap.

Hubert: You mean like in horse races and golf?

Nikita: Surely. I'm a long talker, too, but from what I hear you should spot me about 50,000 words on the morning round and say 40,000 in the afternoon.

Hubert: Anything for world peace, even if it takes my last ounce of oratory. Remember, I talk faster, but you talk louder.

Hubert: (After the first four hours.) Where are we?

Nikita: That will take another half-day to determine. Shall we pause for lunch?

Hubert: You mean you can't talk while eating!!!

Nikita: (1 p.m.) We're just warming up. I have a secret for President Eisenhower. Want it now or around sunset?

Hubert: Let's have it now and we can talk about it the rest of the day.

Nikita: I have a guided missile that goes twice around the earth before hitting the target. I believe I can lick the world.

Hubert: That's a SECRET-!!

Federal Bombing Law

By David Lawrence

When the bombing of a Jewish church in Atlanta occurred several weeks ago, this correspondent suggested that the episode had the earmarks of Communist underground operations. The suggestion was met with cynicism by some of those who preferred rather to indict the people of the South or to blame the occurrence in part on those persons who exercise their constitutional right in America to speak or write on the issue of integration in the public schools.

Lawrence

There were others like the mayor of Atlanta, however, who pointed out that the bombing seemed to be part of an interstate conspiracy—it wasn't just the work of hoodlums or crackpots in any one locality. Anything interstate is big enough, of course, to be of foreign origin as well.

NOW, AFTER considerable investigation, including a visit to the South, Sen.-Elect Kenneth B. Keating, (R-NY), points the finger of suspicion toward the Communists. Here is a United Press-International dispatch of last Saturday from Schenectady, N. Y.:

Sen.-Elect Kenneth B. Keating said here last night that there was a 'strong suspicion' the bombings of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been formented by Communists. . . .

" 'Moscow made certain that the news of Little Rock and the school bombings reached every corner of the globe,' Keating said. 'There is even a strong suspicion among many informed people that the Communists themselves may be fomenting these horrible bombings.' "

At first it appeared that the bombings and threats were directed solely at Jewish places of worship but there have been numerous incidents involving both Protestant and Catholic churches and their schools.

PHONY THREATS have become numerous, and, while these could be the work of crackpots affected by suggestion, it is far more likely that the Communist underground, which has agents in every state of the Union, would take advantage of the opportunity to achieve headlines.

Anything that portrays America as torn constantly by class feeling is grist for the Communist mill.

The Communists, moreover, do aid and abet anti-Semitic organizations on every continent. They help to finance Fascist units in Europe which are active in spreading hate literature.

They have access to student bodies in many universities throughout the world, especially in Mexico and Latin America generally.

They have lately gotten stronger in Canada, where it will be recalled that a few years ago Igor Gouzenko, an attache of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, exposed a Canadian-American spy ring of the Communists.

The distribution of "Hate America" literature has recently increased in Canada.

FASCIST UNITS, secretly financed, are a favorite instrument of the Communist apparatus because, on the surface, they seem far from sympathetic with Communism.

Sen.-Elect Keating, in a television interview on Sunday, indicated that some Fascist organizations in America may be implicated in and certainly are exploiting the bombings.

When the tragedy in Arkansas occurred last year, the Communists promptly exploited it on the propaganda waves.

As federal troops moved into Little Rock, the Communists boasted over their radio stations throughout the world that the United States couldn't keep the peace by normal means and had to resort to military force.

While there are doubtless amateurs in the bombing game, the techniques are usually handled by professionals.

The Communists have many experienced units engaged in bombing enterprises inside Middle Eastern countries and their activities emerge wherever the Communist and anti-Communist forces are lined up in bitter hostility to one another.

More than a billion dollars are spent annually by the Kremlin in subversive activities in at least 72 countries of the world.

Sen.-Elect Keating is right in urging that these bombings or threats of bombing inside the United States be covered by federal criminal laws.

In a sense, they are usually interstate in their character anyway, but, if the federal law specified such crimes, it would enable the FBI to move in more rapidly and to work more closely with local authorities in warding off such happenings.

Sen. Ervin (D-NC), and Sen. Russell (D-Ga), have both spoken publicly in favor of such legislation, which ought to be an indication in itself that the South stands with other law-abiding people in a determination to ferret out and punish the leaders in the bomb plots and their henchmen.

The problems growing out of the presence of a powerful Communist underground inside America will never be solved till many who are influential in the press and in the pulpit stop pooh-poohing it as non-existent.

Also, if the Fifth Amendment were amended so that, during a "cold-war," Americans could be required to tell of their Communist associations, the FBI would be helped immeasurably.

It is not enough for witnesses merely to deny personal complicity. If they would wholeheartedly assist the authorities, it would be of incalculable aid in running down the interstate conspiracies and their masterminds operating here or in neighboring countries through funds furnished by the Moscow government.

Let's Keep It Clean

By Truman Twill

Nothing has happened to shatter the All-American dream of breaking down speech barriers in the United States by standard pronunciations on network radio and television programs.

It is still reasonable to hope that the American language as enunciated by the top-drawer announcers and artists will be accepted as a model by citizens in all parts of the country.

But things are taking a turn for the worse. Someone has been sold the idea that the way to get attention for an electronic sales pitch is to pitch it to the talky-gawky audience in Ubangi.

That is not necessarily the language used, but it might as well be for all the effect it has on Americans who do not know the lingo. As far as they're concerned when the sound is piped into their living rooms, they could be listening on their automobile radios to local programs in New England, the Deep-Fried South or the Wild and Wistful West.

Whatever it is, it is not the common currency of communication. It is something provincial and colloquial.

Some if it, apparently, is intended to convey the glow of southern hospitality, because it is spoken in a drawl that suggests a dentist in Nieuw Ahleens must have left in a couple of clamps.

Any observation about the lingo of others is bound to be offensive and will excite charge of provincialism and intolerance.

It will be pointed out that a deep-fried Southerner has as much right to his lingo as a proper Bostonian or an uninhibited Westerner with a mouthful of hot peas. That is not the question.

The question is whether deviations from standard speech should be encouraged on national hookups in radio and television.

Sectional accents and peculiarities exist and even have a certain quaint attraction. But should electronic communication be corrupted by such variances and oddities?

There is a national written language comprehensible to all. Why not keep the language of nationwide electronic communication equally free from patters and vernaculars that cannot be understood by nationwide listeners?

Latin American Policy

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Democrats are moving in to push the Eisenhower administration toward a broadened and perhaps more generous policy in dealing with Latin America, or to break the whole subject wide open for public discussion.

The shocking treatment given Vice President Richard M. Nixon last spring on his Latin-American good will trip forced this country into painful realization that this country's relations with its southern neighbors are far from happy.

The problem is complex. Mainly, so far, the administration has been talking of studying the problem.

THIS WEEK Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, one of the leading possibilities for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, made a speech in Puerto Rico. In it, he offered a 10-point program for strengthening U. S.-Latin-American relations. While not giving Latin America a clean bill of health, he was critical of this country's performance.

That speech cannot help but win him friends in Central and South America. It can't do him any harm either among Latin Americans in this country if he should run for president.

Another Democrat, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, also in the running for his party's presidential nomination, indicated last week he plans a major speech on Latin America.

SEN. GEORGE SMATHERS, a Florida Democrat who is known as a friend of Latin America, has said he expects to introduce in the new Congress a bill to create the post of undersecretary of state for hemisphere affairs.

On top of this, a Senate subcommittee — headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat —was given the task of looking into U. S.-Latin-American relations. It now is making a study and may hold hearings early next year.

The bipartisanship of Democrats and Republicans has been pretty sturdy in areas of the world where communism is a menace, especially where it is or might become a military menace.

THERE'S NO PRESENT military danger from communism in Latin America. But there is the possibility of future danger, and maybe not too far off, if Communists gain a dominant role in one or more Latin-American countries.

The Democrats may feel less inclined to go along with the Eisenhower administration on problems involving Latin America than on those affecting Europe, Asia or Africa.

When Nixon returned from Latin America last May he made a few public proposals—mostly in generalities—for bettering this country's relations with its southern neighbors. And he conferred privately on the matter with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. But Nixon has never come up with any detailed proposals in public.

AFTER NIXON'S return, Eisenhower sent his brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower to Latin America. He, too, made few public proposals when he got back here in August.

Milton Eisenhower said he would make more detailed recommendations later but explained this might take time because of his duties as president of Johns Hopkins University. So far as this writer can learn he has never made those further recommendations.

Recently representatives of this of 20 Latin-American countries to study what needs to be done to provide more U. S. help for Central and South America.

Farm Statesmanship

By Raymond Moley

Despite many years of political muddling, the farmer must still depend upon his own and upon cooperative efforts to solve his problem of surpluses. President Charles B. Schuman, in his annual address to the American Farm Bureau Federation, confirmed this in some plain words:

"If the family farm is to remain strong and competitive we need to make sure that family farm operators are permitted to adjust to meet changing conditions.

"The government acreage control and price fixing programs of the past 25 years have discouraged needed adjustments and stimulated the production of large quantities of crops that consumers did not want.

"The result of these unwise political decisions is that thousands of family farm operators have not made adjustments to changes which are inevitable.

"Their future is jeopardized by the very programs which were supposedly intended to help them.

"THE BILLIONS of dollars spent on price support purchases and subsidy payments have not added to farm income — they have only been an offset against the losses that farmers have suffered as a result of restricted production, increased costs of operation and surplus depressed prices under the programs.

"Many panaceas will be proposed to the new Congress. Those who believe in government direction of individuals and those who do not recognize that our successful system in this country depends upon freedom of individuals to choose always advocate more government controls over the economy when faced with the failure of current programs.

"Most of the so-called new proposals being offered have the same built-in weaknesses that brought failure to past programs and would, if adopted, accelerate the trends toward socialized agriculture."

This statement of the plain facts is in line with the long record of this federation, the largest of all farm organizations.

President Schuman would not discontinue all government interference. But what he further suggests in this speech are measures to help farmers toward the true objective of a free market.

HIS PROPOSALS are these:

1. Discontinue all acreage and production controls and use the soil bank to ease adjustments for a short time.

2. Use a percentage of the previous three-year market price as a basis for support for those products that have been price fixed.

3. Freeze existing stocks in the Commodity Credit Corporation so that they will not compete with new crops. Then get rid of existing government - held stocks to nations in distress or which could not normally purchase such commodities in the world market.

Schuman also had some worthwhile comment on the perils to everyone in inflationary spending.

No one, he said, profits in the long run from such a policy of diminishing the dollar except bureaucrats, speculators and those who would destroy the free enterprise system entirely.

So far as organized labor is concerned, he said that the monopoly in economic and political life which is sought by some labor union leaders would, if pressed to its ultimate, destroy the very system upon which good wages and high living standards depend.

Whether this warning, coming from the head of a powerful organization, will have any appreciable effect upon the new Congress remains to be seen. For in the course of time the strongest support for the regimentation and subsidizing of the farmer has come to be the unions rather than the fast disappearing farm bloc.

This support from Reuther and others has two motives; first, to subsidize food purchased by workers in industry, and, next, to keep farmers on the farm and off the labor market.

This new angle to the so-called farm problem is most significant and dangerous.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Capt. Tyrus Raymond (Ty) Cobb, recently returned from military service, announced his intentions to quit baseball. "After 15 years," he said, "I'm tired of it. I'm going to quit while I'm still good." (He didn't quit until 1928.)

Sir Thomas Lipton made his fifth challenge for the American cup through the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. His famous Shamrock IV was first beaten in 1895 in three races by the Columbia.

20 YEARS AGO — State Rt. 23, closed for improvements between Marion and Delaware since July, was opened.

Completion of a campaign for street signs, which had been in progress for three months, was assured when City Council appropriated $230 for the project. The project was to erect some 518 signs, enabling any address in the city to be found.

10 YEARS AGO — Radio Berlin was doing business at the same old stand in East Berlin. Russia's powerful propaganda voice in Germany went back on the air only 12 hours after its giant transmitter had been blown up.

President Truman presented the Collier Trophy for 1947, aviation's highest award, to the three Americans who first proved that man could fly faster than sound. They were Capt. Charles E. Yeager, the pilot, Jack Stack, researcher, and Lawrence D. Bell, manufacturer and designer of the plane.

Court Directive Expected

Ultimatum To Clean Up Forthcoming for Hoffa

By VICTOR RIESEL

Jim Hoffa, high cockelorum of the Teamsters, will be given three or four months in which to clean up his union or positively face removal by the federal courts, this column has learned from the most authoritative judicial circles.

VICTOR RIESEL

Should that happen, the federal bench will dramatically use a score of legal precedents and appoint several trustees to run the sprawling 37-million-dollar transportation union.

Unless such a decision is voided by the Supreme Court, the trustees could govern the union for as long as five years, it was said. These trustees would, in turn, appoint auditors, investigators and regional trustees to revamp and monitor most of the union's 900 locals as well as the huge marble national headquarters itself.

Thus, long after even the McClellan committee folds up its witness chair and recedes into history, the government will be riding herd on the Teamsters — if there is no clean up.

THIS DRAMATIC clash between the courts and the cocky Jim Hoffa might not have come about had he not convinced a weary Washington officialdom that he was giving the rest of the world just 24 hours to get out. Hoffa seems to have been pushing for the showdown. He has it now.

Strangely, this may not have been his intention at all. He may simply have hoisted himself on his own well-placed petards — well-placed by a public relations brain-trust which would make Madison Ave's gray-flannel hucksters turn green with envy.

It is accurate to report that Hoffa's public relations technique is, and has been, to get himself denounced as a "labor boss" reaching beyond the horizons for power with the regularity of a Canaveral rocket thrust.

This is not as mad as it sounds. Hoffa and his colleagues have agreed that it is far better for him to be denounced as a power-hungry militant union chief than as the leader of a union invaded by the toughest, most corrupt underworld forces.

THUS, IN LESS than a year, the top Teamster has been criticized for building an empire through alliances with a score of other unions. He has been excoriated for seeking to control all transport on land, on sea and in the air.

He has been accused of throwing his weight around in foreign strikes and of helping to tie up London's buses and docks. And now even presidential advisers publicly blister him for seeking to control, through the Teamsters union, the police and firemen of the land.

Look closely at this latest move by Hoffa. He has hit the front pages and the radio and TV networks by simply announcing a drive to unionize civil servants. He and his executive board know they have no place to go on this one.

Back in 1956, Dave Beck launched a similar "drive" and talked of throwing every penny of the union's 40 million dollars into the campaign. It froze. Everybody forgot.

Where could such a drive go? There are, for example, some 100,000 firemen in the country. Of these, 90,000 are members of the 40-year-old AFL-CIO International Assn. of Fire Fighters, led by a retired St. Louis fire captain, Bill Buck.

HE ISN'T even disturbed by the announcement. The morning Hoffa's story broke, Bill Buck paid more attention to Archie Moore's ring victory than Hoffa's pronouncement.

The 10,000 non-union firemen are in departments with less than seven men each and are actually too widespread to be unionized.

As for the nation's 350,000 police, the Supreme Gourt has ruled that local laws prohibiting their unionization are valid.

Leroy Wilke, head of the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police, tells me that only in Wisconsin do the state police have a union. There also are local unions in some 44 communities which have not challenged their existence. That's the score, though the AFL-CIO has been trying for years.

The new Teamster announcement is a publicity gimmick. The drive will never really get off the ground. But through the maneuver Hoffa shows great daring — and gives the impression that he is being probed because he is the great defender of the proletariat.

It won't help. The courts want him to clean up the mess the McClellan committee has uncovered. And in three to four months.

The Social Notebook

A BAZAAR was combined with the annual Christmas luncheon of the Searchlight Club held Monday in the Women's Club Home. Holiday motifs decorated the tables for the occasion.

Conducting the bazaar sales was Mrs. Ethel McDougal.

Mrs. Ellis Epley, president, opened the meeting with a quotation and the devotional service was in charge of Mrs. J. W. Young who read the Christmas story from the book of Luke and also gave a story, "Just Another Boy." Plans were made to send a sunshine gift of fruit to a shut-in and Mrs. Ralph Epley conducted a sale of articles made by the blind.

Mrs. Young reported on the combined tea and art show held Sunday in the Club Home and donations of articles needed by the school for retarded children were collected and given to Mrs. John Lightner. Various committee chairmen gave reports and a nominating committee was elected composed of Mrs. Ralph Epley, Mrs. Young and Mrs. W. D. Martin. "Turn Right for Christmas" was the subject for roll call.

Mrs. Harley Mayers, program chairman, was in charge of the afternoon's program which featured vocal selections by a guest, Mrs. Ralph Mount Jr. of Greenville, S.C., daughter of Mrs. O. E. Russell. Her numbers were two selections from Handel's "Messiah," "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "Come Unto Him," and also "Walking In a Winter Wonderland." She played her own accompaniment.

The remainder of the program was on "Women of the Bible" with Mrs. McDougal giving a story on "Mary and Martha," Mrs. I. N. Kirkpatrick on "Delilah," and Mrs. Zed Gunder on "Mary, Mother of Jesus." Christmas carols also were sung by the group under the direction of Mrs. Mount and with Mrs. Russell at the piano.

Guests besides Mrs. Mount were Mrs. H. L. Hursey and Mrs. Mary McClenathan. Hostess for the next meeting, Jan. 5, will be Mrs. Mayers.

Christmas greenery, holly and candles comprised the table centerpiece for a Christmas dinner party held by the Carpe Diem Club Saturday evening in the community rooms over the West Town Branch of the National City Bank. Offering prayer was Mrs. Charles Brady. Mrs. Paul Lill served as hostess.

"Merry Christmas To All" was the theme for devotions conducted by Mrs. Donald Tower, who read scripture from the first chapter of Matthew, and subject for roll call was "Childhood Memories of Christmas."

Mrs. Brady, new president, named her committees for the year as follows: program, Mrs. Tower, Mrs. Donald Grimm, Mrs. Wayne Mitchell and Mrs. O. C. Young; refreshments, Mrs. D. W. Hinaman, Mrs. Richard Boyd, Mrs. E. A. Williams and Mrs. Floyd Jenkins; flowers and cards, Mrs. Lill and Mrs. P. G. Shoots; pianist, Mrs. Young; gifts, Mrs. Rudolph Risch and Mrs. Clarence Peterson.

Mrs. Boyd, in charge of the program, gave a poem, "Christmas Is," and Mrs. Shoots presented a reading, "Our Most Efficient Christmas." Giving the thought for the day was Mrs. Grimm. Secret sisters were revealed in a gift exchange and names for the new year were drawn. Mrs. Arlis Risch was a guest. The next meeting, Jan. 7, will be with Mrs. Tower on Merchant Ave.

The Marion Rural Mothers Club of the Child Conservation League held a smorgasbord dinner and Christmas party Monday evening at the Marion Airport Restaurant. Places were laid for 16 members.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Delmar Brewer on the theme, "No Room in the Inn," and the subject for roll call was "An Unusual Gift." Christmas messages from state and district presidents were read and plans were made to fill Christmas baskets for needy families.

For the program, Mrs. Harry Brewer gave a Christmas story, "The Gift That Lasts a Lifetime" by Pearl Buck. Rosebud sisters were revealed and names for the new year were drawn.

Plans were made for a family party to be held on Jan. 15.

Beta chapter of Y-Gradale sorority held its annual Christmas meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Maurice Routon on Park street. She was assisted by Mrs. Gregory Koudelka.

Games were played and gifts from secret sisters distributed by Santa Claus. The next meeting will be held at the YMCA with Mrs. Routon in charge.

The chapter sponsored a children's party at the "Y" Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Rex O'Brien and Mrs. George Shoup serving as hostesses. Cartoons were shown and Santa Claus led the children in songs before distributing gifts.

Decorations in keeping with the holiday season were in gold, turquoise and pink when the Advance Club was entertained for its annual Christmas party Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Head and Mrs. W. G. Stutson on Holiday Lane.

Members brought Madonna pictures or statues which were displayed on a table laid with a blue cloth, and each member gave a description of her contribution in response to roll call.

Mrs. Head presided for the business meeting in which Mrs. C. J. Lyon, Mrs. H. R. Finney and Mrs. Henry Mickley were appointed to serve on a nominating committee.

For the program, Mrs. Isabelle Sutherland presented Miss Elizabeth Ammann who gave a Christmas story and showed colored slides of Madonnas. Refreshments were served in the dining room with Mrs. Sutherland presiding at the table. The next meeting, Jan. 5, will be with Mrs. Finney.

Husbands of the members and other guests were entertained at a Christmas party by Gamma Mu chapter, Delta Theta Tau sorority, Saturday evening in the Legion Dugout on S. High St. Christmas greenery and lighted candles decorated the tables and the hall for the occasion and games and dancing provided entertainment.

Winner of a special prize was B. N. North. Refreshments were served by the social committee headed by Mrs. William Buller Jr. as chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Mitchell, Mrs. Kenneth Kingsley, Miss Margaret Trimmer, Mrs. Howard Bailey and Miss Dorothy Rhinehart.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. N. Keith Beller, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klingel and Sylvan Hyman.

A total of 23 pounds in weight loss was recorded when the Thinner Sanctum Tops Club met Monday evening at the YMCA. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held next Monday night at the Y with a gift exchange.

—:—

Mrs. Theodore Wendt was welcomed as a new member when the Waldo Town and Country Mothers Study Club met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Seitter. Conducting devotions was the cohostess, Mrs. Bruce Baker, and for roll call members gave "My Most Memorable Christmas Surprise."

Donations were voted to the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association and the polio fund. Plans were discussed for a husbands party to be held in March.

Presenting the program topic, "Just Keep Him In Bed," was Mrs. Donald Kaelber. Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Donald Sipe and Mrs. James Salyer and prizes were awarded Mrs. William Frye, Mrs. Vinton Porterfield, Mrs. Carl Salyer and Mrs. Richard Groll.

Decorations were in keeping with the Christmas theme for the social hour in which refreshments were served by the hostesses. The January meeting will be with Mrs. Kenneth Wood.

Mrs. Art Stoner served as cohostess when the Youth Study Circle of the Child Conservation League met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Gilbert, 15 Sara Ave.

Mrs. Richard McCurdy, president, presided for the meeting and devotions were conducted by Mrs. Harley Kelley. A Harding High School clarinet ensemble, composed of Miss Judy Langdon, Miss Jo Ann Thomas, Dan Yinger and Tony Drury, presented several musical selections. The club's annual gift exchange followed.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Dunn of 384 Forest St.

A Christmas party with a gift exchange will be held by the Job's Daughters Mother's Club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul McMahon at 539 E. Church St. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Yule Columns

The society department again is planning its annual holiday columns for publication prior to Christmas Day.

News of individual parties, students home from college for the Yuletide season, visitors expected here or trips planned away from home—all will be accepted.

Items for the column should be mailed to the department or left at the society desk by Dec. 20.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: Please help a heart-broken girl hang on to her sanity.

For more than three years I went with a fellow I'll call Ralph. I wore no ring but considered myself engaged.

All my relatives knew him and said we were an ideal couple. He cut down on his drinking when he started to go with me.

His mother said I was the best thing that ever happened to him.

Last week Ralph came over and I could see he was soused. He told me he was leaving town and the explanation would be in the mail.

When the letter came I almost fainted. He had been seeing a 17-year-old girl behind my back and she became pregnant.

They were married last month and were leaving town in a few days. In other words, Ralph had been seeing me after he'd married this girl.

He swears he still loves me and always will. He wants to wait till after the baby comes, then get a divorce. He says I should trust him and have faith.

He says she may have him physically but I have him mentally. Please tell me what to do—KIKI.

You may have him mentally, but his wife has him legally. put this fellow out of your mind, the same as any other married man with a family on the way.

A fellow who would get married behind his steady's back and continue to see her as if he were single is a deceitful scoundrel and you know it.

He asks you to trust him. Why should you, based on the record? What has he done to merit trust? It's what people DO that counts, not lip service.

I hope you'll have nothing more to do with this double dealer. It's enough that he's wrecked one girl's life. Don't let him try for two.

Jealousy Showing

Dear Ann: There is a girl in our crowd who is giving a very nice guy a raw deal. She is interested in him only because he's captain of the football team.

She's told all of us that he is a big jerk and that she intends to drop him right on his head as soon as football season is over. Then she plans to make a big play for the basketball star.

It burns us up to see her roll her eyes at this fellow and hang on his arm. He already has promised her his gold football and she's gloating like a fiend.

He's a swell Joe, but very homely. It hurts us to see him taken in by this scheming girl.

Can you say something in your column to warn the guy?—TRUE FRIEND.

Like what? An open letter to all homely football captains to beware of a girl who is taking him for a ride? .. ... .

If he gets thrown for a loss he'll learn, like everyone else. In the meantime, I trust you will keep your noble mouth shut, True Friend, so that you will not make noises like a jealous cat.

Pinched Treasury

Dear Ann: The office where my husband works has a party every month for employes and their wives. My husband is treasurer.

Something always happens to the finances and he gets stuck. For example, last month a couple was unable to attend because of illness. They didn't let him know until it was too late to cancel the reservations. My husband had to pay for their dinners.

Our income is not large. My husband is in no position to make enemies. How can he collect from these deadbeats?—PINCHED.

Either take the parties to a restaurant that will collect for the dinners on the spot or send a letter to all employes informing them that unless their check is in your husband's hands 24 hours in advance, it will be assumed that they are not able to attend.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fumes Prove Fatal

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—As he sat in a chair in front of a lighted gas stove in his home Daniel Borsos, 52, collapsed and died. Lorain County Coroner Paul J. Kopsch ruled the death Tuesday was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

-:- Church Activities -:-

The Sunshine Bible Class of the Prospect St. Methodist Church met in the church parlors Thursday evening. The meeting was opened with Christmas songs led by the Rev. Ray C. Dotson. Mrs. Stella Wilhelm, in charge of devotions, presented the Christmas story in scripture and song

Mrs. Edna Dietsch read "The Masterpiece" and "The Real Meaning of Christmas" and Mrs. Wilhelm read "I Saw Christmas." Gifts were presented to D. I. Hill, teacher, and Albert Bechtle, class president.

More than 50 members and guests attended the annual WSCS Christmas banquet at the Waldo Church Wednesday. Special guests were Mrs. Ted Wendt, Mrs. Gerard Gebhardt and Mrs. A. A Turner, wives of three ministers in the community.

Mrs. Allan Roberts was in charge of devotions and Mrs. Leon McCorkle planned the program. Miss Jessie Wyatt played the piano for group singing. The Waldo High School boys quartet, composed of Sam Dunlap, Douglas Denzer, Leon McCorkle Jr., and David Augenstein, sang three selections. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rogert Rice, musical director at the school.

The "Littlest Angel" was presented in a puppet show with voice recording.

Circle 3 of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church met Thursday for a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. B. Burley on S. Grant St. Mrs. Maynard Snyder was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. W. M. Minshall announced the names of missionaries and offered prayer. Ten members answered the roll call with Christmas verses. Devotions were given by Mrs. S. D. Ross, who read the Christmas story and offered prayer.

Plans were made for the circle to take part in the program of the Women's Association of the church Tuesday evening. Cards were signed for shut-ins and church calls were reported made.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Prospect Methodist Church met Wednesday night in the church social rooms. Mrs. Thelma Halley led devotions and also read a poem.

Mrs. Wahneta Barnes, secretary of children's work, announced that children's missionary work study classes would be held during January and February. Mrs. Mary Cornett, secretary of missionary education, said a study class would begin after Jan. 1. It was voted to purchase additional robes for the Wesleyan choir.

The Helen Boyles Circle of the Prospect St. Methodist Church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ann Taylor of Lusch Rd. Mrs. Twila Mitten was assistant hostess.

Fourteen members and three guests, Mrs. Ray Dotson, Mrs. Mary Krauttner and Mrs. Arlene Sieder, were present. A covered dish dinner preceded the afternoon meeting. A reading, "If Jesus Came to Our House," was given by Mrs. Betty Seitter. Mrs. Betty Patterson was in charge of devotions and Mrs. Irena Shipman, publicity chairman, directed the gift exchange.

Mrs. Donald C. Jacobs entertained the Wesleyan Service Guild at her home in New Bloomington Wednesday evening. Mrs. Robert Boblenz gave the devotions and Mrs. James Randalls was in charge of the program.

Records were played and carols were sung. A vocal duet was presented by Mrs. Henry Bowles and Mrs. Boblenz and Mrs. George Kalb read the Christmas story.

Plans were completed for serving a banquet for the Northwestern Sales Cooperative Association Tuesday, Dec. 16, at the church. In January and February, study in courses in Isaiah, Alaska and Hawaii will be presented, it was announced.

Hostess for a meeting of the Emmanuel Baptist Women's Missionary Prayer Band Thursday night was Mrs. Carl Ford who entertained in her home at 869 Oak Grove Ave. Mrs. O. A. Wheaton led devotions on the birth of Christ Reports were given by Mrs. Ruth Monahan and Mrs. Alice Highland. The group was told that four boxes of supplies sent to Miss Ruth Challis in New Mexico have been received there and three barrels sent to Miss Alice Ostrander in Nigeria have arrived at their destination according to word from the mission workers. Parts of letters from missionaries throughout the world were read. Members voted a donation for the Cleveland Hebrew Mission and for the radio fund of the local church. Mrs. C E. Hershey reminded members of the birthday gift to be sent to Miss Norma Jones in Nigeria. Jeffrey Coy and Rebecca Ford assisted in serving.

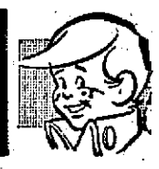
Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE



Esteban is trying to reach Santa Land to get help in stopping the professor from releasing gas which will kill all the fairies. The mole and his workers dig an underground road to the edge of an ocean where Esteban hopes to find a cousin of the mole who digs through ice. As they pop out of the hole, Esteban sees the strangest creature he has ever seen — the Snuke.

Chapter 12

A QUEER RIDE

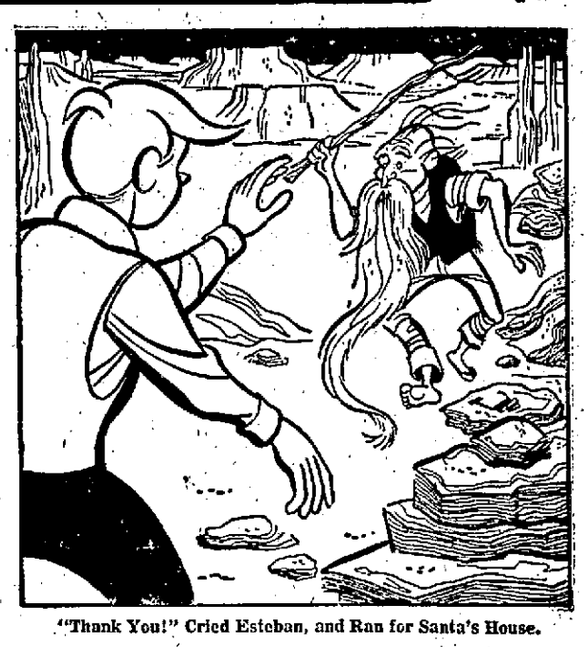
The Snuke is the queerest fish in the sea. He has a small round body. At one end is a fanlike tail. At the other end is an enormous mouth three feet long. The top of its snout has notches sharp as the teeth of a saw.

It was this creature that Esteban and the mole found snoozing on the beach.

"Wake up, old fish," cried the mole.

"Wh-wh-what?" stammered the Snuke, blinking his eyes sleepily.

"What a lazy life you Snukes lead," jeered the mole. "While we moles work day and night you do nothing but lie on the beach and sleep."



"Thank You!" Cried Esteban, and Ran for Santa's House.

"What else is there to do?" yawned the Snuke.

"We have something you can do!" said the mole. "Tell him, boy."

SO ESTEBAN told the story again of how all Fairyland was in peril and he must get to Santa Land to warn Santa.

The Snuke listened to the story with growing horror. "Oh, my!" he exclaimed. "Some of my very best friends are sea fairies. Oh, my! What shall we do?"

"Do?" snapped the mole. "Take the boy to Santa Land. That's what the saw on your snout is for, isn't it—to cut through ice?"

"O-of course! But how could I carry the boy?"

The Snuke's great mouth dropped open with surprise. Before he could close it again the mole pushed Esteban in and snapped the jaws shut.

IT WAS cold and dark and wet inside the Snuke's mouth. Esteban crouched there and shivered. He had never been so uncomfortable.

But the worst was yet to come for suddenly the Snuke rocked back and forth, took several somersaults, and finally began to roll up and down.

"We are at sea!" thought Esteban.

He held tight to the Snuke's teeth and tried to rock and roll with the fish like a man on a ship.

When he became used to the rolling it was quite pleasant and he was just beginning to enjoy the trip when a most awful noise deafened him. It was the sound of a screaming saw.

THEY HAD reached the polar ice and the Snuke was cutting through it with the saw on top of his snout. Esteban put both hands over his ears, but he could not shut out the sound.

Just when he thought he could stand it no longer the sawing and rocking stopped and the Snuke's mouth opened. Peering out, Esteban saw a great snowy land and tucked between two white hills was a little red house with smoke curling from its chimney.

"It's Santa Land!" cried Esteban joyfully.

He leaped out of the Snuke's mouth and raced away. But when he had gone only a little way he remembered the Snuke. He ran back.

"Thank you for the ride!" he exclaimed to the fish whose big mouth was sticking out of a hole in the ice.

"Thank you!" replied the Snuke. "Remember it's my friends you're trying to save!"

Fire Chief Ousted

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—O. J. Hysell, removed from his job as Logan fire chief Tuesday, has 10 days to appeal the removal order to the Civil Service Commission. Mayor Francis Myers fired Hysell, charging him with incompetence, inefficiency and neglect of duty. Hysells removal grew out of a City Council resolution asking the mayor to investigate the operation of the fire department.

Dormitory Hit In Wilberforce College Blaze

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — Christmas vacation will come early for many Wilberforce College students, resident of a men's dormitory which was heavily damaged by fire Tuesday.

One student, Don Maness, 19, of Greensburg, Pa., suffered minor injuries when he jumped from a third floor window to a first floor landing. Maness, captain of the Wilberforce basketball team, suffered a possible chipped bone in his foot but was not hospitalized.

The fire will cause Christmas vacations to start two-days early for most of the burned-out students, said George Valentine, college vice president. Some will be housed temporarily in the school gymnasium and student union building.

The blaze, termed accidental by fire officials, started in a student's room. Its cause was not established.

William Free, district chief for two Xenia Twp. fire departments, estimated damage of $75,000 to $80,000 to the building and $20,000 to the contents.

Dr. Rembert Stokes, college president, said the three - story brick dormitory was insured for $130,000.

Six neighboring fire departments helped extinguish the blaze, which started during a lunch period when few students were in the 45-year-old building. The central portion of the dormitory was destroyed.

Auto Crash Fatal

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Charles Weikel, 43, of Mentor Headlands was killed when his car skidded on the icy pavement of Ohio 283 near Corduroy Road Tuesday and crashed into an oncoming car.

Bernard is a Teutonic name meaning "bold as a bear."

NATO's Military Chief Makes Plea for Missile Rearmament

Norstad Airs Needs, Asks Quick Action

Intermediate Range Weapons Requested At Paris Conference

PARIS (AP)—NATO's supreme commander in Europe, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, pleaded with the Atlantic Pact countries today to move quickly into missile rearmament.

In a strong presentation to the foreign ministers of the 15-nation alliance, Norstad outlined present strength and future needs in the face of Soviet military swaggering, primarily over Berlin.

Needs IRBM's

Informed sources said Norstad told the secret gathering his military command needs intermediate-range American guided missiles as soon as they can be placed on the European bases from which they could reach the Soviet Union.

Only Britain has thus far accepted these missiles. The Italians are close to signing a similar agreement. French delay on acceptance is the big stumbling block to getting what Norstad considers an adequate force of missiles in Europe.

Address Called Serious

Norstad's speech was described as sober and serious. A NATO spokesman, asked if the commander expressed satisfaction with Allied military progress, replied:

"It would be wrong to conclude that there was any optimism or pessimism. Realism would be a better word."

Before Norstad spoke, many of the delegates displayed little or no sense of urgency toward the strengthening of land forces or equipping them with missiles. For one thing, U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had told them Tuesday with the statement that "our military advisers are absolutely confident that the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin."

Called 'Empty Threats'

Soviet warnings of nuclear war if the West insists on continued access to West Berlin were termed by Dulles "empty threats which ought not frighten anyone."

Norstad also appealed for speedy fulfillment of NATO plans for 30 full-strength, combat-ready divisions in Europe, plus 100 battalions armed with short-range, tactical missiles by 1963. So far the NATO force lacks half of the divisions, due chiefly to the lag in West German armament and the diversion of most French strength from Europe to fight Algerian rebels.

A military report to the NATO ministers warned that the Russians could launch a massive attack without resorting to weapons of mass destruction.

Could Use Massive Power

Informants said the Russians could throw one million men into a central European attack. The Soviet military power was estimated at 170 line divisions of 2,500,000 men, 20,000 planes and 500 submarines.

CONFESSES KILLING. David S. Smith, 20, confessed the killing of Mrs. Janice Porter, 24, a neighbor, in Columbus Tuesday. He is led to a cell by Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck. The victim had been tied and gagged and her clothes had been torn from her body. (UPI Telephoto) (Story on Page One.)

Unfair Practice Charge Answered by Whirlpool

The Marion Division of Whirlpool Corp. has been charged by the United Auto Workers union, through the National Labor Relations Board, with two unfair labor practices, it was announced today by Jasper Burt, general manager.

These charges, made as efforts to organize the plant continue, accused the company of "coercion and domination" in connection with an employe council, and with dismissal of an employe for union activities.

Mr. Burt issued the following statement in connection with the union's charges:

"After a number of interviews with production and management employes by a representative of its regional office, the National Labor Relations Board has offered to 'settle' the two charges brought by the union without further hearing or publicity. The 'settlement' offered is that we take back the man with back pay, and that we dissolve the employe council.

"IF WE DID not feel that our actions were right we would not have dismissed the employe or participated in the discussions with the employe council. Both actions have been carefully considered. Therefore, we would prefer to participate in any hearings and litigation that may be necessary to establish the facts and the actual nature and legality of federal regulations relating to these charges.

"We dismissed the employe for just and sufficient reason, in our considered opinion."

"The employe council, which we are accused of coercing and dominating, is made up of a group of men elected from various departments of the plant, designated to spend a certain amount of their regular paid working time discussing with members of management matters that they feel might detract from the favorable working climate which it is our sincere desire to maintain.

IT IS GENERALY known that no matter how sincere an organization may be in trying to establish a relationship between supervisors and employes which permits free discussion of all problems related to their work, most employes will continue to feel some hesitation in carrying on such discussions with their immediate supervisors. This is a normal and expected part of any business operation. It arises from human weaknesses among both supervisors and employes. Recognizing this, we recently agreed to a suggestion from some of our employes that a committee be formed, to be known informally as an employe council. This committee has met periodically with members of the personnel department, and frequently with me, to discuss any problems that they might be aware of and to make suggestions for the improvement of our overall work situation.

"Unquestionably, it is to the best interest of unions concerned with increasing their list of dues-paying members to make every effort to reserve the whole area of discussion of working conditions for themselves. We have not been willing to accept this particular principle as a necessary part of a business operation. In fact, we feel that, where the policy of a business is to deal fairly with employes, the introduction of a union into the scene results only in additional cost to employes without contributing anything in particular to the betterment of the situation for either party.

"The evidence of our sincerity in carrying out this policy in wages, supplementary benefits and working conditions are matters of record which we intend to review publicly during the next few weeks so that employes and community may more fully understand our thinking.

"NEEDLESS TO say, we find it most unpleasant to be faced with this added charge brought by a union as it attempts to organize a group of employes who already have excellent working conditions, the lack of which are the sole reasons for the existence of unions. To be perfectly candid, this charge seems to us to be an attempt by the UAW to deny this company the right to deal fairly with employes except through the union. We cannot help feeling that this is another attempt by union leaders to place the objectives of international unionism above the real welfare of Marion Division employes.

"We shall continue to work with the employe council as long as the employes feel it is to our mutual interests to do so, or until legal intervention causes us to discontinue its existence. We shall also do our best to make clear our firm conviction that the council is both lawful and for the best interests of the employes throughout the course of whatever hearings may take place as a result of this latest charge by the UAW.

"This statement is intended to help our employes and the community understand our basic thinking on the whole matter.

"We know that sometimes basic principles are lost sight of when a hearing becomes involved in the technicalities of legal practice and procedure. In this whole matter, we would much rather be dealing with principles of honest and fair human relations than with the intricate technicalities of union relations."

Changes in Tax Code Discussed for Lawyers

Changes in the internal revenue code applying to 1958 income tax returns were discussed at the regular meeting of the Marion County Bar Association Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

The speaker was William Tracewell of the Marion office of the Internal Revenue Service. He reviewed all the changes in the income tax regulations as they affect the returns for this year. The meeting was attended by 30 attorneys. William Wiedemann was the program chairman.

Mitchell Lists Expenses

County Commissioner Luther Mitchell filed a statement with the Marion County Board of Elections Tuesday listing expenses of $140 during his campaign for re-election. A Republican, Mr. Mitchell was defeated by Calvin Retterer, Waldo Democrat.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

A Columbus man was charged with passing at an intersection after a Rt. 23 mishap which occurred at 10:27 a.m. Tuesday one and one-half miles north of Marion.

Patrolmen said cars involved were driven by Marion DeWees, 30, of near Marion, and Clifford D. Adamson, 32, of Columbus, both northbound.

According to the report, the Adamson auto started to pass the DeWees car as DeWees was attempting a left turn.

Minor damage was done to both vehicles in the mishap. It was the only one investigated in the county Tuesday by state patrolmen.

Trucks Collide

Three minor no-injury traffic accidents were investigated Tuesday by Marion police. One at Brightwood Dr. and Mt. Vernon Ave. at 11:33 a.m. involved trucks driven by George H. Bodine, 71, of 448 Cherry St. and Merrill V. Jones, 56, of Columbus. Police said the truck driven by Mr. Jones skidded into the side of the other truck.

Each of the other two accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage.

Christmas

hard as a laborer all his life until he became disabled last year. It was difficult for him to accept welfare assistance after supporting himself so many years. He tried to work despite his affliction, but his condition grew worse.

He and his wife have accepted the fact now that they must turn to others for outside help, but they are humble in their requests.

Asked what they wanted for Christmas, they made only one request — "a good dinner."

A generous cash donation for Mrs. F. to do her own shopping for the holiday dinner would lift the spirits of both man and wife and put new meaning into their Christmas.

Routine existence can sometimes become drudgery, but Mr. G., a lonely, blind man, does little complaining. He lives in a small room above a restaurant and has few contacts with the outside world.

The only bright spot in his day is the trip he makes downstairs for a meal. And always he is modest in his food selections for fear he will overspend his welfare allotment.

The elderly gentleman asks no miracle to quell his loneliness or help him regain his sight. But the thought of a $2 Christmas dinner on the restaurant menu brings a smile of anticipation to his lips.

Welfare authorities report Mr. G. needs warm clothing, too, for the long winter ahead. He does not have a pair of pajamas and new bedding is badly needed. His pajama size is 38. He would like a colored shirt, size 14½-33, and a gray sweater, size 38.

Remembering Mr. G.'s needs on just this one day of the year would bring new light into his life.

So that the needs of individuals like these may be filled in time for Christmas, the Junior Service Guild sponsored clearinghouse will remain open until noon on the day before Christmas. Hours daily are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except Sunday.

evacuated his home on the sheriff's orders and returned hopefully after the fire had passed. "There was nothing left," he said in shocked disbelief.

John and Romelia Lampo trudged through the charred remains of their cabin.

"We had a nice cabin," said Romelia. "All of the cabins here in the San Juan cost $8,000 or more to build and furnish. Mostly old people lived in them."

"Rebuild? No," said John. "It takes money for that and ours is gone."

"I wonder what the little animals will do for a drink?" Romelia asked.

"We had three little foxes — Limpy, Eater and Bobtail—and we used to feed them every day."

"Yes," added John. "Every day at half past four exactly."

High winds and low humidity have made the fire fighters job a tough one. They don't expect to have even tentative control over the flames before Thursday.

The fire is believed to have been started by a tracer bullet ripping into the dry brush, either from a hunter's rifle or a military plane.

The fire's northern edge is within five miles of the El Toro Marine Air Base. About 11 miles to the south another front is only a mile-and-a-half from the Marine Corps' sprawling Camp Pendleton. No structures at the camp are threatened. At its westernmost point it is five miles from the mission village of San Juan Capistrano.

Faces Two Charges

Pauline Smith, 38, of 203 Fleetwood St. was arrested at 12:45 a.m. today on W. Mill St. by city police. She was charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct. She was to appear in Municipal Court today.

Piloted Space Trip Forecast In Next Year

Sen. Monroney Talks At Observance Citing First Powered Flight

NAGS HEAD, N.C. (AP)—This 55th anniversary of powered flight brought a prediction today that the United States will send a piloted aircraft into the fringes of space within a year.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) linked the prediction with praise for Orville and Wilbur Wright, who made the first successful flight in a powered aircraft in 1903.

Monroney's speech was prepared for a luncheon marking the anniversary of the event, which took place at Kitty Hawk, near here.

"With the same courage and vision as the Wright brothers," Monroney said, "modern pioneers will strike through the chains that hold man to the earth's atmosphere just as Orville and Wilbur Wright broke the chains which held us to the ground back in 1903.

Tracing the progress of aviation since then, Monroney said: "This year we will put a man into outer space, some 100 miles above the earth, in a man-piloted aircraft. The X15 will be flying before the next Wright Day is observed. . .

The Air Force's X15 space research plane is expected to start test flights soon.

Hearing Opens On Local Suit

Damages of $50,000 Sought After Mishap

Jury hearing of a $50,000 damage suit which grew out of an October, 1955, traffic accident on State Rt. 98 opened today in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Mabel Hoover of near Harpster seeks compensation for injuries she allegedly suffered when the car in which she was riding struck the rear of a combine operated by Paul Force of near Edison, defendant in the action.

The plaintiff alleges she was thrown from the northbound car driven by her husband, Silas B. Hoover, and suffered a fractured skull and other severe injuries.

She alleges the accident occurred near dusk on Oct. 23 and charges the defendant with negligence for allegedly failing to display lights or other warning signals on the combine. She alleges Mr. Force started to turn the combine left in front of the Hoover car without signaling.

Mrs. Hoover is represented by the Bucyrus law firm of Kennedy, Kennedy and Purdy. The local law firm of Wilhelm and Robinson, and Delaware attorney Fred Wickham represent the defendant.

Dirksen Faces Opposition

GOP Ranks in Senate Split on Floor Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower held a surprise conference with Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) today in an effort to avoid a disruptive battle over the Senate Republican leadership.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, told newsmen afterward that both he and Eisenhower hope it will be possible to start the new year as a united party.

Split Over Dirksen

A split in Republican Senate ranks has been widening over the candidacy of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois for GOP floor leader.

Bridges indicated that Eisenhower took the initiative in arranging today's meeting. But the senator added that the President "just listened" and feels it is a problem for the Senate itself to resolve.

There was no immediate indication of the effect the Eisenhower-Bridges conference might have on senators organized to oppose Dirksen.

The Illinois senator's assertion he is definitely a candidate and expects to win stiffened the attitude of senators rebelling against their Republican leadership.

The insurgents' spokesman, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, said in an interview: "We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by making our fight for a forward-looking leadership. I think we have a good chance to win. If we are defeated, the party can look forward to further reversals in the 1960 elections."

Dirksen, Senate GOP whip in the last session, told reporters he expects to be elected floor leader at the Republican caucus Jan. 7.

He said he does not believe the other group could block his election. He is supported by Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee.

The insurgent group has a hard core of 10 members, but claims support among the other 24 Republican senators in the coming Congress.

Reviews Record

"I do not know on what grounds I am being opposed," Dirksen said. "I have gone down the line for key administration legislation, including foreign aid, reciprocal trade, defense reorganization, the U. S. Information Agency appropriations and other controversial measures.

"I have carried the flag for the President and the White House when the going was rough."

The opposition group has said it will announce at a Dec. 30 meeting its candidates for floor leader, whip, Bridges' policy committee post, and for chairman and secretary of the Conference of All Republican Senators.

8 Semifinalists To Be Picked For Selection to Trip Abroad

Thirty-three Harding High School juniors who have applied for a summer abroad under the international visitation program of the American Field Service will be screened down to eight when the selection committee meets Monday afternoon at the school, Darl Gatchell, principal and committee chairman, reported today.

The top eight will be brought before the committee for personal interviews sometime in January. Names of four finalists will be sent to the American Field Service office in New York, Mr. Gatchell said. Final selection of the one student to participate in the foreign experience will rest with the field service.

Applications Reviewed

Thirty-three applications were reviewed when the committee held its first meeting Monday afternoon at the high school. The chairman noted that several students were eliminated at that time because of submitting incomplete applications.

Members of the committee currently are studying individual applicatons to make recommendations when the group meets again next week.

Share Experiences With Others

The American Field Service summer program gives students in this country an opportunity to learn about people of other nations and to spread abroad the principles of American life.

The student from Marion may be assigned to a home in South or Central America, Europe, the Far East or the Middle East. Assignment depends largely upon language training, background and interests.

The Marion Rotary Club will finance the major portion of the summer trip with the student expected to defray remaining costs, Mr. Gatchell said.

Traffic Cases

Three traffic cases were disposed of in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday. They were: Larry E. Deisler, 20, of Bucyrus, forfeited a $50 bond, reckless driving; James A. Tate, 19, of LaRue, $25 and costs, speeding; Lillian Mable Strohm, 40, of 392 S. Vine St., $15 and costs (suspended), failure to yield right of way.

Rountree Leaves Iraq Under Guard

BAGHDAD (AP) — William M. Rountree, assistant U.S. secretary of state, left Iraq quietly, almost furtively, today. His Iraqi Airways plane took off for Beirut, Lebanon, where he will change planes en route to Athens.

The envoy's departure contrasted with the hostile demonstrations which marked his arrival. There were no crowds on the streets. The exact time of his departure had been kept secret.

The Iraqi government nonetheless took no chances. Soldiers stood every 30 or 50 yards along his route from the U.S. Embassy to the airfield.

The American charge d'affaires, A. David Fritzland, other embassy officials and a representative of the Iraqi protocol offici saw him off. Rountree declined to make a statement.

OSUM Office To Close

Special hours will be observed at the Marion branch office of Ohio State University here during the Christmas holidays, C. Eugene Maynard, local director, reported today.

The office, located in Harding High School, will close Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 5 p.m. until Monday, Dec. 29. It will be open for regular hours Monday, Dec. 29, and Tuesday, Dec. 30, then will close again until Friday, Jan. 2.

Classes for the winter or third quarter will begin Monday, Jan. 5.

very quickly, which was the principal cause of the deaths. There were so many people in the store that when those in the rear saw they could not get out immediately they turned to the back, crashing into the wall and jamming the stairway."

A fireman, Pedro Rodriguez Ramirez, said when he worked his way through the store with a hose, he found the stairway in the rear covered by bodies. In one rear storeroom on the first floor he found four charred bodies, in another "I found 9 or 10 young women kneeling with their arms outstretched."

President Alberto Lleras Camargo declared national mourning. The government announced it would pay for the funerals.

Taxpayer Drops Suit Against School District

A taxpayer's suit against the Marion County Board of Education protesting transfer of the old Marion Local School District to what is now the Ridgedale district has been officially withdrawn, court officials reported.

Plaintiff in the action was William Tracewell who last week made public his intentions of dropping the suit. Dismissal of the action clears the way for transfer of the tax-rich area west of Marion to the Ridgedale district.

The county board of education is expected to discuss the transfer at its meeting Thursday night.

House Committee Votes Against Seating Alford

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special House committee reportedly decided today to recommend that the House refuse to seat Dr. Dale Alford, segregationist who beat Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark).

An informant said the vote was 3-2.

A House committee investigating campaign expenditures has been considering charges that there were irregularities in the election.

Georgia Youth Faces Holdup, Theft Charges

A 19-year-old Savannah, Ga., youth taken into custody early Tuesday by Marion police today is faced with possible armed robbery and automobile theft charges.

James Lisk Gaddy was stopped by city police at 2:32 a.m. Tuesday after the state highway patrol reported he had stopped at a restaurant in Fostoria and acted in a suspicious manner.

After he was stopped here, police learned that the car he was driving had been stolen from Atlanta on Nov. 16 and the license tags on it were stolen from a car in Flint, Mich., Monday night.

Notified of these facts, Flint police asked Marion police to determine if there was a trench coat and light colored cap in Gaddy's property or the car he was driving. They said a grocery store near where the license tags were stolen had been held up and that the robber wore such clothing and that he escaped with $118. Flint police said the robbery occurred at 6:15 p.m. Monday.

Searching the car, police found a trench coat, light colored cap and a loaded .32 caliber automatic pistol in a cloth bag hidden in the trunk of the car.

Faced with this evidence, Gaddy admitted the robbery of the grocery store in Flint and the theft of the car from Atlanta a month ago, Police Chief Justin Cornely said.

Gaddy now is being held in the Marion County Jail pending a decision on whether he will be turned over to Michigan authorities for prosecution on the armed robbery charge or to federal authorities for prosecution on a charge of transporting a stolen automobile over a state line, Chief Cornely said.

Warmer Spell May Not Last

New Wave of Cold Is Due in Area Tonight

Long-hoped for moderation in this month's bitter winter weather, which sent temperatures above freezing for the first time in more than a week Tuesday, may be short-lived, weather forecasters said today.

A new wave of cold, though not so frigid as that which kept Marion in a deep-freeze since Dec. 5, was expected to push into central Ohio this afternoon. It may bring snow flurries with it.

The low tonight is expected to be 15 degrees and the high Thursday 25. Today's high is expected to be 35 degrees before the new mass of cold air moves in.

The high reading yesterday was 34 degrees and the low last night was 21 above.

Local Store Sends Goods to W. Africa

A supply of musical instruments and equipment worth nearly $2,000 is on its way to West Africa from the Hardin Music Store here, Don White, sales manager, reported today.

He said the large shipment of eight instruments, sheet music and equipment including spare parts is bound for Monrovia in the African state of Liberia.

The 445-pound order was placed by a native African group which is working on a pipeline for Republic Steel Corp. Mr. White explained that the men hope to organize their own musical combo.

The mail request arrived at the local store recently handwritten in English. It was believed supervisors on the steel pipeline project wrote out the order for the natives.

County Gets $30,400 For Poor Relief Funds

The state has distributed five million dollars in poor relief money this week to help many more people in Marion and other counties have a Merry Christmas. The payment was in advance of a regular February distribution date.

Relief fund received by Marion County totaled $30,400 and in Wyandot County, $12,051.

The funds come from a 1.65 per cent tax on public utilities and more payments will be distributed in late January or February, James A. Rhodes, state auditor, said.

Rep. Knutson Loses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) apparently lost today her battle for a full-scale investigation of her defeat in the November election.

A special House committee which had been taking a preliminary look at the case was reported in unanimous agreement to drop it.

Yaussys Will Represent County in Dairy Contest

Program Is Considered Tops in Area From Cost Standpoint

Marion County's representative in the forthcoming state dairy efficiency contest, an event sponsored annually by the Ohio Dairyman's Association, will be the Pleasant Township partnership of Ralph V. Yaussy and Sons.

Selection of the Yaussy program was made after it was determined that it would, on the basis of overall operating costs and general excellence, stand the best chance of success in competition with other top dairy enterprises in the state.

The Yaussys farm a total of 240 acres, which supports 85 registered and grade Holstein cows, 44 of which are currently in production. Working the farm are Ralph and his sons, Warren and Arden, the latter a student in the Pleasant School.

It was back in 1946 that the Yaussys first started testing. They were Crawford County farmers then and were on the owner-sampler program. The last four years, since returning from a brief stay in North Carolina, they've been on DHIA test.

WITH 85 per cent of the farm income derived from dairying, the Yaussys set up their operations around their cows, with 104 acres given over to the raising of grain, 104 delegated to pasture and 26 comprising a wooded area. The remaining land, about six acres, is taken up by buildings.

Crops raised include wheat, corn, oats and pasture, carried on a four-year rotation plan.

The Yaussys, whose herd produced an average of 14,657 pounds of milk and 512 pounds of butterfat in 1957, feed a ration of 1,700 pounds of oats, 2,000 pounds of ear corn, 200 pounds of 50 per cent soybean meal and 25 pounds of both salt and mineral. Each cow in the producing herd gets 17 pounds of this ground ration a day. Dry individuals and heifers get an average of 15 pounds per day.

In addition to the grain ration, cows are fed grass silage at a rate of 12 pounds per day from roughly mid-November until May. The herd is fed chopped forage in the summer on drylot, getting a fresh feed on a twice-a-day schedule.

The Yaussy rotation program calls for an application of 300 pounds of 0-20-20 every second year on pastures and meadows, with a ton of lime to the acre added every fourth year. The rotation plan calls for two years of meadow, one year of corn and one year of small grain.

THE YAUSSY herd is brucellosis-free, although not certified so. Regular ring tests and vaccination of calves insure against a rise of the disease in the herd. In addition, Mr. Yaussy and Warren, who do most of the work with the herd, dry treat for the prevention of mastitis and use a strip cup behind the milkers.

As an insurance that production will remain high and that only top cows will be maintained, the Yaussys keep no animals producing under 400 pounds of butterfat. The herd has, thus far this year, pailed an average of 13,773 pounds of milk and 463 pounds of fat.

The Yaussys use both natural and artificial breeding, belonging to the North Ohio Breeders Association. Presently at stud on the farm is Chardell Wis Burke, which will be two years old in August. Wis Burke is out of the dam of Mabel Chardell Rainbow, a cow now in production in the Yaussy herd that could eclipse the record of the best individual formerly owned by these top dairymen.

Bell Chaven Sovereign, sold in February at age 13, had a lifetime production record of 133,973 pounds of milk and 4,717 pounds of butterfat in 10 years and eight months. All but four years of that mark was established while the cow was owned by the late Zenas Kline.

MABEL CHARDELL, in her fourth lactation now, has produced 59,341 pounds of milk and 2,274 pounds of butterfat.

The Yaussys, who average 12 hours a day in the accomplishment of their program, plan to have 75 per cent of their herd calve in the fall, breeding each cow back once every 12 months.

In short, the Yaussy program is, in the opinion of Ellwood Parrott, county extension director, "one of the best in the county" and probably the top one from a standpoint of cost efficiency.

The county, it seems certain, will be well represented in the state contest, where only the best operators in a highly competitive business compare notes.

COUNTY'S BEST BET. Ralph V. Yaussy (right) and his son, Warren, stand with two of the fine Holsteins in their 44-cow milking herd. The Yaussys have been chosen as Marion County's representatives in the forthcoming state dairy efficiency contest. Top honors will go to four dairymen on behalf of their operations when all state entries are considered. The Yaussys get the nod due to their excellence of operation based on their comparatively low costs. The third member of the Pleasant Township dairy triumvirate is Arden a Pleasant School student and runnerup as the county's "outstanding junior dairyman."

10th Birthday of Swine Group To Be Observed

The 10th anniversary of the Ohio Swine Improvement Association will be observed at a meeting Friday in Plumb Hall on the Ohio State University campus.

The organization was inaugurated in July of 1947, setting up a program designed to select and recognize swine breeding stock from Ohio herds that would improve the overall efficiency of both production and marketing value of the Buckeye state's commercial swine crop.

In charge of the anniversary fete will be W. H. Bruner, swine extension specialist at OSU, who will discuss, among other things, activities at the swine evaluation station.

Apply for Loans Now

Farmers seeking loans on any commodity by Dec. 31, should apply for same at the ASC office by at least Dec. 22, according to Ed Augenstein, ASC manager.

Mr. Augenstein observes that a considerable amount of paper work is involved in processing the applications, and filing by the Dec. 22 date gives ASC office workers a minimum of time to get work accomplished prior to the Dec. 31 date.

Purdy Is Named Cattle Salesman at Producers Yards

Charles Purdy, 36, a native of Mount Vernon, now making his home at 183 Kilbury Rd., began work Monday as cattle salesman for Marion's Producers Livestock Association.

Mr. Purdy, with 15 years experience in the lifestock business as a farmer, stock yards worker and packing house employe, joins the local Producers organization to replace Harold Allen, who resigned his position to accept the managership of the Producers market at Vincennes, Ind.

The new cattle buyer is well known to some area farmers, having worked here three years ago.

Mr. Allen, a native of Indiana, who resided at 247 Peterson Ave., came with the Marion Producers branch in October of 1955, and was named salesman in April of the following year.

His advancement to the managership of the Vincennes yards is indicative of his own ability and rates, too, as a feather in the cap of Jim Smoot, manager of Producers here, under whom he worked

Cleveland Holstein Sets Ohio Production Mark

A registered Holstein cow owned by a Cleveland resident has broken an all-time Ohio production record on herd improvement registry, according to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Linton Hall Reflection Edna, on a 365-day test, pailed 27,821 pounds of milk and 1,111 pounds of butterfat, with both weighing and testing supervised by Ohio State University.

Linton Hall was bred in Canada and is a daughter of A B'D Reflection Sovereign. She was milked on a twice-a-day schedule.

Dividend Checks Mailed

Some 15,000 shareholders of Farm Bureau Cooperative Association stock will receive dividend checks this week totaling $185,000, it was announced today by C. W. Fullerton, treasurer and director of finance for the association.

He said this is the 24th consecutive year that dividends have been paid on the company's investment stock, and that dividends are paid to shareholders on record as of Dec. 15, 1958, with interest being figured through Dec. 31.

The National Fire Protection Assn., a non-profit membership organization, insists that 90 per cent of fires are preventable.

Field and Furrow

By Allan Bovey

If progress is accomplished as planned at Thursday's meeting of the Agricultural Hall of Fame's board of governors in Kansas City, Mo., a site wil be chosen on which to erect the monument to the immortals of American agriculture.

The final choice of the spot on which is to be raised the Hall of Fame will erase from the agenda one major hurdle in the setting up of this unique recognition program.

This tribute to those whose efforts have promoted agriculture's progress in the U.S. has been a long time coming, and Howard A. Cowden, president of the board, asserted at the recent meeting that he had never been associated with a project "in which so many persons and communities have offered and wanted to help."

The site will be chosen from one of four localities, as narrowed down from the original 50 by a research division of the Doane Agricultural Service of St. Louis, Mo. They include Ames - Des Moines, Ia., Springfield, Ill., Kansas City, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo.

The four "finalists" were selected by the Doane service on the basis of nearness to the geographic and population center of the country and in an agricultural area surrounded by farms, accessibility by all modes of transportation, and having an area of at least 200 acres of generally level or sloping land.

A goal of $5 million has been announced by the board to provide for the hall. Fund-raising machinery is to whir into action Feb. 1.

Specific purpose of the memorial: "To honor all who have helped make this nation great with contributions to the advancement of agriculture."

A new spirit of optimism pervaded the office of Grady Barnes, general manager of the Marion County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, early this week.

Mr. Barnes announced that his organization's first quarter report, covering September, October and November, showed net profits at $13,000 more than they were for the corresponding period a year ago.

"That," observed Manager Barnes, "is good news indeed for a business that noted, in its financial report for fiscal 1958, a net loss of $60,792."

Why the happy upswing in business? Grain and supply volumes are both up, Mr. Barnes noted, adding that primarily due to the good soybean harvest, business was booming along at a 50 per cent richer clip than was the case for the first quarter of 1958.

A WEEK AGO Monday, Marion's Producers Livestock Association had its largest sale of the year.

Jim Smoot, Producers' manager, noted that 496 consignors sent 1,531 head of hogs (including pigs), 715 steers, 168 calves and 806 sheep and lambs through the sale ring. The final offering of the whopping consignment was not shooed past the auctioneer until almost 10 p.m.

The week before, as farmers turned out following the windup of most of their harvesting, 423 consignors unloaded 3,047 head of livestock into Producers chutes.

AGRICULTURE is running pell-mell into an era of specialization. Farm economists, realizing this, have forewarned that the operator of tomorrow must not remain the diversified agriculturist of yesteryear.

With specialization looms the prospect of higher financing, more complicated marketing and organization to insure the status of farmers as integral pieces in the nation's jigsaw puzzle of economics.

Roger Fleming, secretary-treasurer of the American Farm Bureau Federation, had the following to say at the federation's recent 40th anniversary meeting.

"It is important to consider how best to promote and protect the long time interests of farmers and ranchers at a time when farm people are becoming an increasingly small proportion of the nation's total population. It is inconceivable that commodity producers will serve their long run interest best by being a party to depreciating the future importance to them of general farm organizations."

Production Marks Of Holsteins in 2 Area Herds Cited

The Ohio Dairyman's Association recognized outstanding, lifetime records of cows in two Marion County herds.

A total of nine individuals in the Paul Lawrence and Sons herd were cited, together with one registered Holstein owned by Richard Lawrence.

The Paul Lawrence cows, together with their age, lifetime milk and butterfat production records, are as follows: Holwyn Warden Fearn Prilly, 7, 97,994, 3,591; Pet, 9, 150,822, 4,750; Tillie, 8, 138,090, 4,875; Q-Sik Lana Challenger, 5, 85,010, 3,132; Ruby, 7, 121,517, 4,483; Nina 7, 101,120, 4,067; Sylvia, 6, 89,310, 3,781; Posch Hellon Star, 5, 94,520 3,339; and Nan, 6, 106,998, 3,892.

Lafar Miss Ohio seven-year-old owned by Richard Lawrence, has pailed 125,343 pounds of milk and 4,198 pounds of butterfat.

Polled Hereford Group Makes Progress Report

The Buckeye Polled Hereford Association was a busy organization this year, according to its annual report.

Figures show that the unit sponsored 13 sales at which 641 lots of cattle were auctioned for a total of $289,175. Of this total, 165 individuals were bulls that sold for an average $578, while the 476 females went for an average $407.

There are currently 213 members active in the Ohio Hereford group.

At Columbus Sessions

Ellwood Parrott, county extension director, will return to Marion Thursday night from a four-day County Chairman's Workshop, held in the Youth Center on the Ohio State fairgrounds.

The session is an annual event, designed to acquaint directors who head their respective offices, with new methods and programs of operation.

Most Efficient Dairy Herds in County Listed

Lawrence, Isler Units Top DHIA, O-S Test Projects Respectively

A total of 20 dairy herds in Marion County produced 400 pounds or more of butterfat per cow during the 1957-58 test year ending Aug. 1, according to reports issued this week by Ellwood Parrott, county extension director.

Of this number, 12 were listed on the Dairy Herd Improvement Association record, while the remaining eight, were on owner-sampler test.

The reports list 18 herds in both categories. While owner - sampler figures are not recognized by any official dairy unit, the program is dedicated to herd improvement and Mr. Parrott credits dairymen in the program with a significant part in the move to maintain only the most efficient herds and individuals.

Holsteins Shine

In every instance save one under DHIA auspices, herds tested were comprised of Holsteins. One group, owned by Ralph Denzer and Sons, is made up of Jerseys. One Jersey herd and one mixed group broke an otherwise solid Holstein block of the high butterfat herds in the owner-sampler program.

Topping the mark in DHIA testing was the 44-cow herd of Paul Lawrence and Sons. The Lawrence cows pailed a creditable 564 pounds of butterfat per cow for the year in question for a total of 24,637 pounds. Each cow averaged 14,736 pounds of milk for a herd total of 642,730 pounds.

The 23 cows milked by William Earl carried of second high honors, putting an average of 515 pounds of butterfat and 14,960 pounds of milk in the bucket. John Young's 21 cows rounded out the list of herds producing in excess of 500 pounds of butterfat. The Young cows gave 508 pounds of butterfat and 14,781 pounds of milk per cow for the testing period.

Gomer Johnson and Son milked their 40 Holsteins to fourth high in the county butterfatwise, pailing averages of 488 and 13,822 pounds of butterfat and milk respectively. And, the 38 cows owned by Ralph Yaussy and Son took fifth place honors with an average production of 483 pounds of butterfat and 13,773 pounds of milk.

The rest of the top 12, in order, were as follows, with butterfat and milk averages per cow noted: Harold Seiter, 25 cows, 481, 13,368; Joe Lawrence, 25 Holsteins, 456, 13,183; Edward Mantey, 26, 423, 11,470; Randall Huffman, 16, 411, 11,538; Richard Lawrence, 39, 411, 11,822; Ralph Denzer and Sons, 27, 404, 7,443; Edward Neidhart, 30 cows, 400, 11,313.

Dairymen with herds in the DHIA-producing over 300 pounds of butterfat per cow were: Wilson and Lee, 43 head, 366, 9,309; George L. Earl 25, 363, 9,727; Carl and Ralph Boger, 26, 358, 11,216; E. H. Burris and Sons, 35, 345, 10,091; Donald Williams, 30, 315, 8,993; and George Stevens, 20, 308, 7,478.

Isler Herd on Top

The 12-cow Holstein cow herd of Arthur Isler was high in butterfat production among owner-sampler participants. Mr. Isler's producers pailed an average of 467 pounds of butterfat and 13,104 pounds of milk.

Close behind was the 12-cow herd of Reid Epley, whose Holsteins gave totals of 459 and 11,652 pounds of butterfat and milk respectively.

Stanley Picket, with 15 head under production, got 456 and 12,602 averages, good for third place, while William Miller, with 17 cows giving an average of 441 pounds of butterfat and 11,202 pounds of milk came in fourth. Fifth high went to Alfred Laucher, whose 21 cows gave 418 and 12,211 pounds of butterfat and milk respectively per cow for the testing year ending Aug. 1.

The balance of the herds producing an average of 400 pounds of butterfat included the following: Perry Seiter and Son, 12 head, 416 pounds of fat and 11,317 pounds of milk per cow; Don Clayton, 6, 411, 7,697; and Paul Dasher, 22, 401, 11,635.

Rounding out the list of owner-sampler herds with a 300-average in butterfat production per cow are the following: Floyd Cluff and Sons, 42, 307, 8,247; Frank Heimlich, 26, 276, 5,877; Carl Klingel, 18, 395, 11,282; Ralph Laucher 20, 376, 9,243; Tommy Lauer, 6, 303 7,247; Fred Leffler, 15 cows, 362 pounds of butterfat per head, and 10,644 pounds of milk.

Lowell Mack and Son, 21, 376, 9,783; Weldon McNeal, 12, 395, 9,449; I. O. Roszman, (number of cows not listed), 362, 8,903; and Mrs. Thelma Watzel, 7, 388, 6,503.

Dairymen in the DHIA program whose herds topped the 400-pound mark, were recognized for their achievements at the annual meeting of the Marion County Dairy Service Unit meeting Tuesday night.

HARDIN DAIRYMEN MEET. Considerable pride was expressed in dairy cow production figures when Hardin County dairymen belonging to the county's Dairy Herd Improvement Association met in Kenton recently. The session was supervised by Harry Donaho, extension dairy specialist at Ohio State University. Here (left to right) Lowell McPeek, Logan County producer; Mr. Donaho; Herbert Bradley, supervisor of the northwestern extension service, and Ray Parrott, Hardin dairyman, note Hardin milk and butterfat figures for the years 1948 through 1957. It is readily seen that production in both categories has been on the upswing, notably since 1952, the figures for the county's cows comparing favorably with those for Ohio at large.

Report Shows Dairy Group Is Solvent Unit

The Marion County Dairy Service Unit wound up fiscal 1958 (Dec. 11, 1957-Dec. 6, 1958) with a cash balance of $86.

This was revealed at the annual meeting of the organization last week in the Pleasant School.

Ellwood Parrott, treasurer of the unit, noted that expenses for the year had footed up to $5,493.42. Total income was $5,124, leaving an operating balance of $369.26 on the books as of the Dec. 6 date.

Total assets at fiscal year's end were figured at $5,504.55, Mr. Parrott noted, with liabilities amounting to $5,418 26, leaving the aforementioned $86 29 total.

On the income side of the ledger for '58, the $3,832.75 taken in for testing was by far the largest item. Dairy bar receipts at the county fair, operated each year by members of the organization, footed up to $1,064.52, the report showed, with the $76.50 taken in as 1957 banquet receipts.

The balance on hand as of Dec. 11, 1957, was $396.14, Mr. Parrott reported.

Labor for testing accounted for the unit's biggest expenditure during 1958, with $3,475 61 delegated for this service. Dairy bar expenses were $937, while social security and withholding taxes ate up $259. Banquet expenses for '57 were figured at roughly $201, while postage and supplies with regard to testing accounted for a $124 expense.

The report showed $294 still outstanding in advance deposits owed. This figure represents fees paid into the organization by dairymen and farmers entering the testing program between 1949 and 1954.

Officers of the dairy group are as follows: Joe Lawrence, president; Ray Denzer, vice president; Paul Dasher, secretary; and Mr. Parrott, treasurer.

Conservation Plans Are Filed at District Session

Requests for conservation assistance were received from three county residents at the regular meeting of the Marion County Soil Conservation District Friday.

According to W. L. Williams, head of the local district, the requests were filed by Mabel M. Wheatley, owner of 80 acres of Big Island Township land; R. W. Zeig, an 80-acre portion of Pleasant; and Ernest Evans, farming 166 acres in Prospect Township.

Plans were set up for Alvin H. Merritt, 240 acres of Salt Rock land; Robert Everett, 272 acres in Green Camp; and Robert D. Blank, four acres in Pleasant. In addition, Mr. Williams notes, a revision of a 117-acre plan for Mr. Everett was made.

Discuss Farming's Newest Venture

OSU Extension Economists Explain Vertical Integration for Agriculture

(This is the first in a series on vertical integration, a new concept of farm economics that is already present in the broiler industry to a considerable extent and has made some inroads into other aspects of the overall agricultural picture. This account will deal with an identification of this program, together with the reasons for current interest in it.)

The day of diversified farming, as such, is all but gone. Farm economists and experts agree that specialization will characterize the agricultural picture of tomorrow.

Along with the prospect of specialization has come an economic concept called "vertical integration," or, "contract farming."

What is this thing called vertical integration and why the current interest in it? What should a farmer consider before engaging in this type of program? And, what developments along this line have already been made on the farm front?

The extension service at Ohio State University assigned several of its experts to the task of answering these questions recently and they have compiled their findings in a bulletin titled "Vertical Integration, Good or Bad for Ohio Farmers?"

At the outset, it is noted that there are two kinds of integration — vertical and horizontal. In horizontal integration, the farmer combines two businesses alike into one larger one. Example: The operator who works one place and then buys or rents another, combining the work for both into one big job, has integrated horizontally.

IN VERTICAL integration, however, several of the stages of production, processing and marketing are lumped together under one management.

Vertical integration can be accomplished three ways in farming, these extensionists point out. There can be a contract with the farm operator. Or, the farmer can extend his ownership and control over processing and distribution. Or, a processor can rent land, hire labor and provide equipment for livestock production.

The most obvious example of vertical integration in this and other areas is the broiler business, where the farmer raises the birds, kills and dresses them and ships them to buyers, eliminating, in the process, the so-called "middlemen."

The integrator, in this new potential for farming, the service notes, is the firm or agency in which management is centralized. The farmer himself may well be the integrator, as he is in the broiler business.

Thus, vertical integration merely provides for centralizing management, coordinating all decisions towards providing a low cost, uniform quality product.

WHAT HAS brought about the trend to vertical integration?

For one thing, the demand today is for a uniform product and a supply thereof. Under contract, cattlemen, for example, could, theorically, arrange to supply a continuous flow of uniform grade beef to the retailer.

Consumers want both uniform quality and quantity also, the extension bulletin asserts. Supermarkets advertise uniformity in virtually all of their meat products, assuring the customer that his purchase will be the same as his neighbor's. To achieve this status, some of them have actually gone into the meat-raising business on their own, especially where poultry is concerned.

But the difficulty of acquiring farm finance looms is probably the biggest reason for the interest in vertical integration, according to the report.

Experts observe that in the last 30 years, farmers replaced labor with capital faster than at any other time in the nation's history. And, acquiring that capital has been, and is, the big problem in farming.

It is a fact that today many farm operations represent an investment of over $100,000. The need for the farmer to get a larger operation, while land prices hit all time cost highs, made the business of financing a major one.

AS A RESULT, the report notes, many farmers are under-financed for present day efficient farming. Actually, the proposition of one man getting enough capital for the land, machinery, livestock and operating capital he needs today is almost out of the question.

The alternative is to turn to an integrator, who offers the farmer a guarantee of a return, for his labors, even though, conceivably, it could, under given circumstances, be small.

Then too, labor costs have reached a plateau that makes it a simple matter for non-farm businesses to outbid farmers for help. Lack of help has contributed to the move for bigger and more efficient machinery, and thence, more acreage. Moreover, farmers see "benefits" enjoyed by laboring groups that might, if they were connected with an integration program, revert to themselves.

In short, vertical integration offers the farmer a chance to "share" the costs of his operation with an agency for which operating capital is more readily available. It offers the farmer an outlet for a quality product and insures him a return for his produce. In return the farmer surrenders some of his independence and his rights to sole management of his operation.

Joe Lawrence Herd Tops Fat List of DHIA

The 21 Holsteins milked by Joe Lawrence wound up atop the list of DHIA-tested herds in production during November, according to the monthly lactation report issued by the county extension office.

The Lawrence cows averaged 1,570 pounds of milk and 54 pounds of butterfat.

Rating the county's herds in accordance with average butterfat production, the units operated by Harold Seiter, William Earl, Young Bros., Ralph Yaussey and Sons and George Earl wound up second, with 44-pound averages for each. The Seiter cows pailed an average of 1,197 pounds of milk, while Earl's Holsteins hit the 1,191 mark. It was 1,170 for the Young Bros., 1,162 for the Yaussey cows, and 1,056 for those owned by George Earl.

The balance of the top 10 in DHIA test were as follows (in order of average butterfat): Wilson and Lee, 43, pounds of butterfat, 1,178 pounds of milk; Paul Lawrence and Sons, 42, 1,410; Cook and White, 42, 1,145; and Richard Lawrence, 40, 1,041.

In owner-sampler testing, Stanley Pickett's 14-cow herd was high with a 48-pound butterfat average and a 1,521 mark for milk. Floyd Cluff and Sons were second, 45 1,215, with William Miller third, 44, 1,062, and Lowell Mack and Son fourth, 40, 930.

Journey of the Magi to Jesus

Herod the King Inquires of Wise Men

Editor's Note: The arrival of the Magi of Persia in tense, troubled Jerusalem set off a wave of uneasy hope among the populace and anger in the palace. Here's a reconstruction of events leading to the Wise Men's interview with Herod, third in five stories on their Journey to Jesus.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The question raced through the city. It swept along the shops of the marketplace. It filtered into the crowded quarter of the poor, the Acra, and whirled through the Temple courts. The question jarred Jerusalem

"Where is he that is born King of the Jews?"

Old men frowned and young men wagged their heads Clothmongers paused in their prattle and women clapped hands to their mouths Some men scoffed; some dreamed Some chewed their lips, wondering

Third of a Series

In the middle hour of the morning, the three strangers, potentates from a distant land, had ridden into the city and halted at the "broad place" just inside the Fountain gate, asking their disturbing question:

"Where is he that is born King . . . ? For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him."

To the three windburned travelers, the learned Magi of Persia, it must have been keenly dispiriting to find that here in the Holy City, the very cradle of redemptive prophecy, none knew of its culmination.

THEY PROCEEDED on up the narrow streets, their footmen bearing the gift cases. A growing throng of onlookers trailed behind them and on either side. Lictors, with bronze-tipped staves, cleared the way.

The venerable, old Melchior swayed tiredly in the saddle, and voices babbled around them

"What manner of excellencies are these? . . . They speak boldly of a new king. . . . Will not Herod seize them? . . . Are they mad? . . . Surely they are Asian princes. . . . They wear the emblems of wizards of the Far East. . . ."

All Jerusalem was troubled Matthew's gospel reports, for the question revived an age-old cry echoing out of the mists of the past in this enchanted city.

On the evening before, the impressive visitors had pitched camp in the Kidron Valley outside the walls. Their dark tents with fringed awnings drew swarms of beggars and waifs, whom the Magians ordered fed and given coins.

Now, after a restive night, they had entered the city, convinced they had reached the end of their long pilgrimage—the birthplace of the God-King For this was the capital of the people predestined to be his lineage

Yet the only response had been guarded looks, surprise and perplexity. Roman sergeants appeared brusquely to ask the delegation its purpose, and other functionaries scrutinized them.

Beside a pool, Melchior raised his hand and the party halted. An attendant hurried up and the old High Magus eased himself to the ground, road sore and stiff. Balthasar and young Gaspar also dismounted.

THE THREE left their camels with servants and trudged silently up the paved ramp toward the Temple. It dominated the city, high on the eastern hill, its marble walls and towers gleaming in the sun.

Long ago, the powerful Darius had decreed that the "God of Daniel" is the "living God," synonymous with Ahura-Mazda. And Cyrus the Great said likewise, even providing means to restore the Jewish Temple in all its grandeur.

Why, then, was the Divine Epiphany unknown here? Melchior ran a wrinkled hand over his face Had he misread the accumulated perception of the age? Had he mistranslated a star?

All the world of that day had felt vague presentiments of a coming matchless leader, a champion of a golden age. Even in idol-filled Rome, the historians, Tacitus and Suetonius, and the Poet Virgil spoke of it.

It had pulsed immemorially in the blood of Israel, and did so even now beneath the boot of the Roman pawn, Herod. Yet there was no inkling of its fulfillment A wave of depression ran over Melchior.

Surely it was here, as revealed in the sacred tomes, in the musty, inspired wisdom that surpasses wisdom, that the Annointed would rise. All Melchior's days, he had absorbed these tortuous secrets, both of Jew and Aryan like himself, harnessing his mind and spirit to receive it.

How painstakingly his royal priestly academy had pored over obscure formulas, examined the elements and analyzed the time intervals given by Daniel to comprehend the supernal moment

And then the planetary heralds had come, followed by the mystic flame—the "star of Jacob" as foreseen in a trance by the gentile diviner, Balaam Yet, here where it had beckoned, its meaning remained unrealized

THIS WOODCUT of the appearance before Herod is taken from a story on the life of Jesus published in 1478 at Ulm, Germany Note how the anonymous medieval artist, unfamiliar with the East, clothed the figures in the court dress of Europe.

HAD THE SEARCH been in vain, a puerile illusion? Perhaps calm-minded men had called it so Could they be right? Was the search for a Savior sheer folly?

Melchior sighed and suddenly he was deeply weary, drained of all energy. He hesitated unsteadily there on the sloping pavement, and again pressed a hand to his eyes. Balthasar gripped his shoulder "Art thou faint, Rab Magus?"

He would not lose heart! Failure was impossible, in reality. God did not change His covenant remained undiminished Only man's understanding of it veered and wavered, for he judged truth in a moment's narrow scope, not the sweep of the eternity.

They could not be wrong The steady beat of the centuries could not be wrong, nor the great, long tide of vision, nor the holy books Daniel could not be wrong, not he whose genius defied logic, whose endowments excelled the earthly manifestations of fire and beast, who read the inscrutable on the walls of the courts of Belshazzar Not all the prophets could be wrong. Nor humanity's highest hope Nor the star!

All at once, Melchior knew. In the infinite symmetries of God, while it was to Israel that the King was born, it was left to voyagers from afar to seek Him out, in token of the range of His call, the universal extent of His kingship.

ON A PORTICO outside the Temple wall, the Magi approached a rabbi who sat awaiting his students, and explained briefly the causes and object of their search

A light, an old hunger, darted in the Jewish teacher's eyes, and then he frowned, glancing about unseasily.

"Thou dost stir up the wells of hope," he said in a low voice "Withal, be heedful lest the Herodians take thy words amiss The king is a jealous king"

Melchior smiled wanly, and his hand traced a circle, sign of blessing. The search went on They inquired of chief priests, in the shops, among the lowly and high.

Soon, to their tents, came a bowing courtier, garbed in ornamented robes and pendants who addressed them unctuously. "Honored sirs, I bring thee greetings from his majesty, Herod the King, who requests audience with thee that he may attend thee in thy desires"

Compared to the troubled buzzing of the city without, a troubled quiet descended within the palace grounds

Bucyrus Fire Fighters' Pay Raise Studied

BUCYRUS — City Council's finance committee submitted to council here last night a recommendation that pay increases, ranging from $10 to $35 monthly, be granted to fire department members effective Jan 1

Firemen had petitioned council for raises averaging about $35 a month last July

Under the finance committee's recommendation, the salary of Fire Chief Ralph Mead would be increased $15 for a total of $440 a month, captains would receive $360 instead of the current $335 and firemen would receive from $290 to $330 compared with a present scale of $280 to $320

Councilman Rolled Koons, finance committee chairman, also reported that the committee has suggested adjustment of salaries in the water and sewage divisions and that a working schedule be set up at the water works so at least one attendant is on duty at all times

Legislation to provide salary increases for the firemen is expected to be presented to council at its next meeting

Council authorized Mayor Joe Sullivan and Safety-Service Director C C Richard to enter a contract with the Pennsylvania Railroad whereby the city will take over maintenance of Galen St and charge costs to the railroad The contract also provides for replacement of manually operated gates at the N. Sandusky Ave. crossing with automatic gates

Browns Sharpen Aerial Attack for Playoff Battle

Practices Opened For Title Struggle

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, who open practice today for Sunday's return engagement with the New York Giants, probably will do more passing next Sunday than they did last Sunday.

The Browns went to New York last Sunday expecting to throw more, but the weather, field conditions and the fact that they moved to the front early in the game altered plans.

Had Planned 20 Passes

"Actually we tried to throw about 15 passes, but only got 12 of them off," said Coach Paul Brown. "We had planned to throw about 20 times."

Browns' quarterback Milt Plum is one of the top passers in the National Football League. He wound up the season only a hair's breadth behind Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins, with a 54 per cent completion record. LeBaron had a 54.5 per cent record.

Plum goes into Sunday's playoff made necessary when the Giants tied the Browns at the top of the league standings Sunday, with a regular season record of 102 completions in 189 tries for a total of 1,619 yards and 11 touchdowns.

Ticket Sale Planned

The Browns announced they are putting tickets on sale for an NFL championship game here Dec. 28. The Browns have to defeat the Giants Sunday to get into the title game the following week against the Baltimore Colts. If the Browns lose Sunday they will have to refund the money for tickets sold for the title game.

Fast Field Predicted

Giants Again Concentrate On Stopping Jim Brown

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite last weekend's snow and the deep freeze, the Yankee Stadium field should be firm and fast for Sunday's third meeting of the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants — unless it storms again.

Coach Jim Lee Howell and his staff found the field to their liking Tuesday when they peeked under the cover that was spread over it Sunday. A chemical substance melted the snow that fell throughout Sunday night and helped thaw out the frozen turf.

The playoff game will determine the Eastern Conference champion in the National Football League.

"The weather last week hurt both clubs," said Howell.

Howell called his team back to work today after a two-day layoff. They have scheduled long workouts today and Thursday. They will taper off Friday and Saturday.

Once again the accent in the Giants camp will be "Stop Jimmy Brown." Although they did a pretty good job of holding down the Cleveland fullback, he did carry for a total of 261 yards in the two games, including two scoring runs of 58 and 65 yards.

The Giants' two victories over Cleveland haven't convinced the price makers of any solid superiority. They are quoting a price of even-six in favor of the Giants. That is 11-10 odds.

Taft Cagers Whip Ridgedale Quintet

The invaders grabbed a 10-5 lead in the first stanza and led 14-13 at the half. Taft managed to move into a 21-18 edge after three periods.

Next action for Taft will be Thursday, when it entertains the Prospect Junior High School team at 3:35 p.m.

Radnor Takes Over Top Spot In Loop Chase

RADNOR — Radnor's Trojans moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Delaware County League basketball race here Tuesday night with a 44-35 victory over Olentangy.

It was the second straight league win for Coach Dick Mayer's charges and the first loss for the Braves. Overall Radnor holds a 4-2 mark while Olentangy is 3-2.

The Olentangy defense was keyed to stop the scoring efforts of Ted Coonfare. Boxing in the Radnor scoring ace, the Braves limited him to nine points but Dave James stepped into the breach to pump in 15 points for individual scoring honors. Butch Cutler and Conley each scored 10 for the losers.

The Trojans hit on 18 of 53 field goal attempts for a 32 per cent average and added 8 of 31 free throws. The losers hit on 14 of 38 for 38 per cent and dropped in 7 of 13 foul shots.

Next action for Radnor will be Friday when it visits Big Walnut in another league battle. The Trojans will take part in the annual holiday carnival at Utica on Dec. 26-27. Radnor will meet the unbeaten Utica team in the nightcap of the opening night play. Johnstown battles Bremen in the first contest. The second night of the carnival will have the two losers meting in the first game with the winners clashing in the finale.

Brown Leads Way

Cleveland Sets Rushing Pace in NFL's Action

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League is still a passer's league.

A look at the final regular season team statistics disclosed today that nine of the 12 teams gained more yardage through the air than on the ground.

Sparked by Brown

The Browns, mostly on the tremendous performance of Jimmy Brown, outran every team in the pro league. Including Brown's record shattering 1,527 yards, Cleveland rushed for 2,526 yards, while passing for 1,581 yards.

New York displayed a much more balanced offense, gaining 1,725 yards on the ground and 1,605 through the air. The Giants were the league's top defensive team against rushing, allowing opponents 3.6 yards per try, and against passing, allowing 45.7 of 311 passes thrown to be completed.

Washington, which had the top passer on the basis of per pass average in Eddie LeBaron, managed 1,977 yards on the ground as against 1,696 passing.

The Baltimore Colts led the league in total offense with 4,539 yards, fairly evenly balanced between 2,412 yards passing and 2,127 yards rushing. Quarterback Johnny Unitas was the Colts' air arm and fullback Alan Ameche and halfback Lenny Moore, the main legs of the Western Conference winning club.

Los Angeles Second

Second in total offense was Los Angeles with 4,406 yards. The Rams passed for 2,672 and ran for 1,734. The Pittsburgh Steelers, amassing 683 yards in whipping the Chicago Cardinals last Saturday — second highest one game total in NFL history — vaulted into third place in total offense. The Steelers, revived by quarterback Bobby Layne, passed for 92,752 yards and gained 1,521 yards on the ground the past season.

Other statistical champions: Pittsburgh took passing honors with 2,752 yards. San Francisco was the most accurate passing team with a 58.2 completion percentage.

Carey Derails Wharton for 67-54 Verdict

CAREY — Carey rolled by Wharton 67-54 here Tuesday night in a league game. It evened the Blue Devils' record at 2-2 and was the fifth loss against a single win for Wharton.

The local squad moved into a 13-8 edge in the first period and was out front 25-17 at the half. The Devils went into the final eight minutes leading by a 39-33 margin.

Tom Greer, hitting at a 61 per cent clip from the floor, pumped in 25 markers to lead the Carey attack. Ron White added 10 points. As a team, Carey dropped in 27 of 42 field goal attempts for a 33 per cent average. It added 13 of 23 free throws.

The Wharton reserves nailed a 43-42 victory in the preliminary contest. Next action for Carey will be Friday night in a Sandusky Bay Conference battle at Gibsonburg.

Wins Neil Plaque

Moore Is Named Year's Top Fighter

NEW YORK (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, after 22 years of pro battling, today won the award he prized above all others—the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque as Fighter of the Year.

He was the unanimous pick of the Boxing Writers Assn. Ageless Archie, who celebrated another birthday 42, 45, or 49 last Saturday, will share the honors with another old-timer, Broadcaster-writer Sam Taub, at the BWA's annual dinner early in January.

Taub, a 72-year-old New Yorker and a pioneer boxing broadcaster, was chosen to receive the James J. Walker Memorial trophy "for long and meritorious service to boxing."

"I'm thrilled," Taub said.

Moore fought what he himself called "the most sensational fight of my career" only last Wednesday night when he rallied from the brink of defeat to knock out Canada's Yvon Durelle in the 11th round of a title bout.

It was Archie's seventh defense of the crown he won six years ago from Joey Maxim. His knockout was the 127th of his 205-fight career and made him the all-time knockout champ of boxing.

His vivid radio accounts of the great fights of the 20s and 30s made him nationally known.

The Neil plaque is named in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1938 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain. The Walker trophy is named for the late mayor of New York.

Indians' Doby Ready To Play At First Base

CLEVELAND (AP) — Centerfielder Larry Doby wants some official word on whether or not he will play first base for the Cleveland Indians next season.

When the Tribe traded first sacker Vic Wertz to the Boston Red Sox for centerfield Jim Piersall, Indians' manager Joe Gordon said Doby might be moved to first. Piersall is a sure bet to replace Doby in the outfield.

Commenting on reports that he would play first, Doby said:

"I wish somebody would let me in on it.

"If I'd go to spring training as a first baseman, I'd get a glove now and brush up. I could get two months practice before leaving for Tucson."

Doby played first base in the minor leagues and broke in with the Indians in 1947 at that position before moving to the outfield. Last season he had trouble making the long throw from center field because of a sore arm. He worked out at first in the closing weeks of the 1958 campaign.

Forest Upsets Unbeaten Ada Quintet 42-33

FOREST — Forest clipped visiting and previously undefeated Ada 42-33 here Tuesday night. The Ada quintet previously was 5-0 in hardcourt action.

Lease and Lahr with 14 each were the high scorers for Forest. Hackworth and Brucher, with 11 and 10, respectively, were high men for the losers.

Forest's reserves won the preliminary game over Ada by a two-point margin 30-28. Wright and Miller with 8 points were high for the winners and Sabol with 7 points was high for the losers.

Forest meets Hardin Northern Friday night.

Pneumonia Attack Claims Bill Corum

BILL CORUM
Kentucky Derby President

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Corum, a small town boy who found fame in New York and contentment in the blue grass of Kentucky, died Tuesday night at the age of 63.

Cancer of the lung, complicated by pneumonia, ended his dual career of nationally syndicated sports columnist for the New York Journal American and president of Churchill Downs race track in Louisville, Ky.

He died in New York's St.Luke's Hospital, but as always he did not miss a deadline. He became critically ill over the weekend, and ironically the newspaper for which he worked will not carry his obituary today. Along with eight other metropolitan dailies, it has suspended publication because of a deliverers' strike.

Sports Editor Shocked

Max Kase, sports editor of the Journal American, said today, "This comes as a great personal shock to me. There is nothing I can add to the wonderful record he has made as a man."

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the famous 84-year-old horse racing trainer, said Corum's death was a great loss to racing. "There's nothing you can say about him that isn't real good. He was a wonderful man, a wonderful writer."

Born at Speed, Mo., July 20, 1895, Corum began building that reputation in 1925 when he joined the Journal American as a baseball writer. That was the same year he saw his first Kentucky Derby, and he loved and praised the classic race for 3-year-olds so much that in 1949, when Col. Matt Winn died, he was the logical choice for the presidency of the tradition-steeped race track.

Conducted Derby Meeting

Corum continued in his sports writing job, but for two months each spring he went to the blue grass country to conduct the spring meeting of which the derby is the premier attraction.

William H. Veeneman, chairman of the board of Churchill Downs, said no thought has been given to a successor immediately.

Corum first entered the hospital during the World Series in October but was discharged last month. He re-entered the hospital last week.

Corum's wife died in 1953. He is survived by his mother, brother Clayton, and a son, Robert, in the Army and stationed at Ft.Bragg, N.C.

Corum attended school at Boonville, Mo., Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., and the University of Missouri. He received his degree from Missouri while serving in France during World War I. He was the youngest combat major in the war, receiving his commission at the age of 23 with the 101st Infantry, Regiment, 26th Division.

Michigan State's soccer team finished its 1958 scheduled unbeaten to extend its three year string to 22 games.

Mountaineers Rebound, Grab 98-67 Victory

By The Associated Press

Henry (Hank) Iba is celebrating his 25th year as basketball coach at Oklahoma State University. His younger brother Clarence, Tulsa coach, already has spoiled Hanks silver anniversary season.

Tulsa turned back Oklahoma State 71-50 Tuesday night in the 69th renewal of their series and enabled 49-year-old Clarence to gain a measure of revenge over 54-year-old Henry.

This was only the seventh time in 50 games that Tulsa has been able to defeat a Hank Iba-coached Oklahoma State team.

St. Josephs (Pa.), No. 14, outclassed Elizabethtown 94-69 for the Hawks fifth triumph in a row after a shaky start.

In other leading games, Virginia Tech downed Furman 95-80 as Earl Gilbert hit for 32 points, San Francisco edged Wichita 47-46 to break a four-game losing streak, Gerry Glynn collected 33 points to spark Yale to a 76-73 Ivy League contest over Brown, Loyola of Chicago posted its fifth consecutive triumph by shading Drake 74-71 and Oklahoma City rallied in the second half to whip North Texas State 70-56.

MCI Wins Double Overtime Struggle

The Marion Correctional Institution's basketball squad recorded a 73-69 victory over Hunt Milling of Richwood after a double overtime battle Tuesday night at the MCI floor.

The end of the first period saw the Hornets holding a 15-12 edge. Coach Bill Coder's charges were clinging to a 36-32 lead at the half and 54-48 at the end of three periods before the Hunt attack perked up.

The Richwood squad tied the score at 62-62 in the final seconds of regulation time and each team scored a field goal and a free throw in the first overtime session to end it at 65-65. The Hornets scored early in the second overtime session and relied on control tactics to cinch the win.

Byrd led the Hornets scoring with 33 points, his high mark of the season. Yazum added 15 points. Houk topped the Hunt scoring with 17 points while Parker netted 16.

'Y' Wrestlers Begin Defense Of State Title

The Marion YMCA's state championship wrestling team will put its reputation on the block for the first time Saturday at the All-Ohio League meet slated at Zanesville. The locals have been in action only once this season in a preview scrimmage against Huntington, Ind.

The Marion team will be faced with opposition from Zanesville, North Canton, Columbus and Lima in the first allout effort and will be fighting for medals which will be given for first and second place in the tournament as well as trophies given to the best wrestler, best sportsman and to the winning team.

Marion will probably find its toughest competition in the tournament from the host team which will have 20 boys on the mat. The local team will be hampered by the absence of Jim Jones, state champion last year, and Pete Ayer, both of whom turned in creditable performances against Huntington but are slightly over the age limit for the league tourney.

Bidding for a starting spot in place of Jim Jones will be Vance Creviston, a rookie this year, and Jerry Gibson, letterwinner of last season. Other changes in the lineup will be the moving of Clyde Thomas, state champion and co-captain, from the heavyweight division to 175 pounds, leaving the top weight group solely in the hands of Pete Wolfinger, another rookie on the squad. Jerry Bechtle, another letterwinner, will not see action due to a severe cold and tonsilitis.

The matmen will spend the remainder of this week drilling on special techniques employed by their opponents of Saturday. This will be a must meet for the local grapplers should they have hope of winning their third consecutive state crown, Coach Dean Ludwig feels.

New Bloomington Cagers Win 73-50 Against Harpster

New Bloomington jumped off to an early lead and was never threatened as it defeated Harpster on the New Bloomington court 73-50 Tuesday night.

John Ullmer led the attack with 21 points while Phil Schaber and Jolliff each pumped in 14 and Bumgarner netted 13. McGuire scored 21 for the losers with Shaeffer adding 13.

From the charity stripe, New Bloomington picked up nine out of 14 while Harpster pulled in 10 out of 18. New Bloomington had an outstanding 55 per cent average on shots from the field by completing 32 of 58 attempts.

In the preliminary reserve contest, New Bloomington downed the Harpster reserves 43-29. Marvin Boles with 13 was high for the winners while Jack Sheaffer was high for the losers with 12.

Baker Falls 32-18 To Claridon Team

The Claridon squad jumped off to an early lead and was out front 10-4 after one quarter. The Hornets led 21-12 at the half and clinched the decision by blanking Baker in the third period.

Coach Bob Geiger's charges managed just six field goals and a like number of free throws. Claridon picked up 12 fielders and added eight points at the free throw line.

Jon Wilson led the scoring for the losing Baker team with five points. Foos was high for Claridon with nine.

Eber Baker will play host to Edison Thursday afternoon in a League contest.

Murder With a Moral

"No crime ever shocked the public more deeply," said Eric Sevareid the narrator of "Playhouse 90's" gripping, unsentimental and marvelously thorough recapitulation of the St. Valentine's Day massacre which might have been called "The Plot to Kill Bugs Moran."

JOHN CROSBY

This is the second of these documentary murder stories to be done on "Playhouse 90" this year. The first was the highly theoretical and thoroughly absorbing story of Stalin's death, which drew a thundering denunciation from the Soviet Union.

This one opened with a shot of a street, the snow drifting down, and a couple of hoodlums being led away at gunpoint by a couple of phoney cops.

THIS WAS the last scene in the marvelously well-planned assassination of Bugs Moran which was marred by only one tiny flaw. Seven men died against the wall of that Chicago garage but Moran wasn't one of them.

A small error in identification by two lookouts posted across the street, a little delay in Moran's schedule which neither Moran nor Machine Gun Jack McGurn could possibly have foreseen—and the plot went agley.

From the end of the story, the drama named "Seven Against the Wall" flashed back to its beginning—a board meeting of the very top echelon of Al Capone's crime empire with Sevareid's off-camera voice quietly introducing and explaining the cast of characters from Machine Gun Jack McGurn, top triggerman and pretty boy who planned the massacre, to the chairman of the board, known to his mobsters as The Man or the Big Boy—Capone himself.

RIGHT FROM the onset you got the idea that was big, big television. There was a spaciousness to the sets, to the streets, to the size of cast, to the very scope of the enterprise.

The action switched from Capone's board room to Moran's apartment and then, in a telling scene, to an ordinary speakeasy where a couple of Moran's bully boys tormented a bartender, broke his glassware, drained his beer.

You got some idea of the helplessness of the ordinary citizen against this crime cartel. A moment later, the feeling was strengthened when a policeman, frisking McGurn, says: "Oh, Mr. McGurn," and gives him back his gun, with the remark: "Sorry, I didn't recognize you."

The gangsters were king then and all cops were terribly respectful. One is tempted to say that this was the shame of the '20s—until you pause to think that the '20s sent Capone finally to jail and McGurn and Moran to death.

SAYS CAPONE: "Aaah, the hell with the public! The public is the guy who wants his glass of beer and his highball"—and orders the assassination.

He was wrong about that. The Valentine's Day killing, as Sevareid pointed out, marked the beginning of the end of the public's tolerance of Al Capone. Within three months he was in jail and he spent about half the rest of his life in jail.

From there the story picked up speed and guts. McGurn was made chief of operations and his meticulous planning was a marvel of organization. The fake hijack of a Capone truck was a master stroke resembling as it did the Trojan Horse, which was perhaps its model.

"The idea of disguising a pair of the killers as cops was another master stroke of irony. Not only did it work—because who was afraid of cops?—but it must have afforded Chairman of the Board Capone some rich amusement."

IT WAS ALL richly detailed—who did what to whom and just how and when, as behooves the recording of an historic and important event.

"Everything has been done—everything that experience and ingenuity can devise," said Sevareid. The meticulous planning, the observation next across the street from the murder garage, the lines of communication, the exact replica of a police car, even the weather report.

The final operation was a little like the blowing up of the bridge in "Bridge on the River Kwai." You knew it was going to happen, but watching it unfold was agonizingly suspenseful.

The final touch of irony—the fact that the one guy it was all planned for missed the party by sheer accident — was a delightfully piquant touch.

I'm happy, too, that Sevareid ended the proceedings with the wry admission that today, 25 years later, "gang operations are more flagrant than ever."

I HAVE a few small complaints.

The writing was a marvel of journalism but, as dramaturgy, it was painfully ordinary, lacking distinction and characterization. Only Capone and McGurn emerged very clearly as people.

Also, the hard, bright aroma of the '20s—its speech and bounce and bite—was totally missing.

Apart from that, everyone connected with it deserves a low bow, especially Franklin Shaffner for his clean, swift and economical direction, and John Houseman for his extravagantly handsome production.

Columbus Attorney in Charge

Simplicity Will Keynote Inauguration of DiSalle

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Simplicity will mark the inauguration of Michael V. DiSalle as governor.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman made that clear in announcing that Columbus Atty Simon P. Dunkle would have charge of the ceremonies

Oath-taking for DiSalle and other elected Democratic state officials will take place at noon, Jan. 12, on the west steps of the statehouse unless weather forces a shift indoors to the capitol rotunda.

Receptions Planned

The DiSalle-Dunkle meeting will decide whether other inauguration customs will be followed. They include presentation of the governors commission by outgoing Gov. C William ONeill and administration of the oath by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Tentative plans call for a short speech by DiSalle followed by a reception in his office for friends and well-wishers Similar receptions are planned by other party officials who ousted Republicans in the Democratic election sweep.

The others are Lt Gov. John W Donahey, who succeeds Paul M Herbert; Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson, who succeeds Roger W. Tracy and Atty Gen. Mark McElroy, who succeeds Wilham Saxbe

Secretary of State Ted W Brown only Republican elective official in the statehouse to withstand the Democratic tide, will be sworn in his office and receive friends there.

The only other administrative official remaining in the statehouse is Auditor James A. Rhodes who did not stand for reelection because his four-year term has two more years to run.

Start First 4-Year Terms

DiSalle and other elected officials, including Brown, will start the first four-year terms for those offices under a change provided by voter approval of a state constitutional amendment.

DiSalle defeated ONeill by the widest margin recalled by political veterans in a gubernatorial election Until ONeill took office two years ago, after beating DiSalle in their first clash, Gov. Frank J Lausche was the only elected Democrat in the statehouse. Lausche now is a U S. senator He will be serving with Democratic Sen. Stephen M Young who defeated Republican Sen. John Bricker last month.

During the afternoon of inauguration day, DiSalle and other new officials will be entertained by the Press Club of Ohio at a stag smoker in the Southern Hotel.

That evening, Governor and Mrs. DiSalle will attend an inaugural ball in Veterans Memorial Hall to be held between 9 p. m and 1 a. m. Tickets are $10 and $25 a couple.

Coleman expressed the hope that proceeds from the ball would be sufficient to wipe out a state headquarters deficit of about $30,000.

The state chairman said DiSalle does not plan to hold the customary dinner in the mansion for close friends after the inauguration.

"We are trying to keep the inauguration as simple as possible, Coleman explained. "If Mike had his way, all he would do on Monday noon is punch a big time clock and then start right in to work "

Because of the widespread interest in the ceremonies, Coleman estimated 3,000 or more would come to Columbus from out of town for the occasion.

Galion Babysitter Puts Wrong Fuel in Furnace

GALION—A babysitter's mistake brought out the Galion Fire Department Tuesday night to the home where she was working.

The girl threw wood into a furnace believing it was a coal burner, firemen said. Instead, they said, it was a gas conversion unit and the house quickly became filled with smoke. The incident happened at the Willard Crispin home on First Ave at 10:50 Tuesday night.

Evidence of Sneak Smoking Is Heard in School Fire Inquest

CHICAGO (AP) — Sneak smoking, delay in sounding an alarm and combustible materials in a stairwell stood out today among findings in the tragic fire at Our Lady of the Angeles School Dec. 1

Coroner Walter McCarron said the most important finding was a report of sneak smoking in the school just before the fire in which 89 children and 3 nuns perished.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the police arson squad told the coroners blue ribbon jury Tuesday that:

"We have definitely found there had been smoking in the school near the stairwell where the fire started.

Brown testified the arson squad found two boys who said they had seen the sneak smokers between 2:20 and 2:30 p.m. The fire alarm was wounded at 2:42.

Brown said the boys could not identify the smokers by name and that pupils and teachers would be questioned again.

McCarron said the smoking incident "promises to open an entirely new line of inquiry and probably is the most important piece of evidence on the origin of the fire which we have received.

Brown testified the fires origin remained undetermined; that there are strong indications it was accidental rather than arson, and that police had been unable to find evidence that any volatile liquid had been used

Argentina's railroad system of 27,000 miles is state owned.

Youth Activities

CUB SCOUTS

The annual Christmas party of members of Cub Scout Pack 54 was held Monday night at Olney Ave. School.

Boys distributed presents they had made in den meetings to their parents. John Murray, cubmaster, distributed gifts of games to all boys in the pack. Other program features were carol singing, with Mrs Harold Titus at the piano, and games led by Mrs. William R. Diem Jr. The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance led by Dick Patterson.

Admitted as new bobcats were David White, Mike Swigart, Mike Hogan and Chuck Gruber. Boys and parents brought food and toys for a Christmas basket to be given to a needy family. Robert England, assistant cubmaster, announced about $80 had been cleared from a Christmas tree sale.

Following the meeting, refreshments of cookies and ice cream were served. Some 80 parents and brothers and sisters of cubs attended.

Files Petition

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mary Wright, a shoe worker of (2010 Robinson Ave.) Portsmouth, filed a petition in bankruptcy in U.S. District Court Tuesday, listing debts of $1,070 and assets of $200.

Italian Tailor Learns Vicuna Touchy Word in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Italian tailor is in town with expensive gifts for President Eisenhower — a vicuna overcoat and a cashmere golfing jacket.

But, after learning how the word vicuna still causes government officials to wince, he hasn't tried to go near the White House to present them personally to the President.

Instead, Angelo Litrico of Rome said he would turn over his two hand-made creations to the Italian Embassy. Ambassador Manlio Brosio, he said, has assured him they will be delivered to the White House.

When asked, the Italian Embassy said Litrico must be mistaken.

Brosio has offered to send along the cashmere golfing jacket to the White House, the embassy said, but the ambassador said nothing about the vicuna coat.

The White House kept a strict silence about Eisenhower's attitude toward the intended gifts. Associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said Litrico has "no appointment — none whatsoever."

The 30-year-old Litrico, operator of a fashionable shop in Rome, said he knows nothing about the furor created last summer by the disclosure that a vicuna overcoat was given to former presidential aide Sherman Adams by Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

"I'm not a politician," he said. "I'm a tailor. It's not my fault that vicuna has suddenly become a bad word. It's a beautiful material — the very best."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek have shown no reluctance in accepting his gifts when he visited their countries, Litrico said.

"I would never visit a foreign country without giving a present to the boss. I give it out of my heart," he said.

$5,115 Damage Suit Is Filed After Auto Mishap

Mary Robinett of near Harpster filed a $5,115 damage suit in Common Pleas Court Tuesday against Jack Fleming of 190 Leader St.

The plaintiff seeks compensation for personal injuries and damages to her auto which allegedly resulted from a traffic accident last July 9 on E. Center St.

She alleges the eastbound car she was driving was struck from the rear by one driven by the defendant. She asks $5,000 for personal damages and $115 for damages to her car. The plaintiff is represented by John Watters and Eugene A. Yazel.

The U.S. Army Infantry M1 rifle weighs 9½ pounds. The bayonet adds an extra pound.

Forest

Mrs. Charles Crum was hostess for the Progress Club's Christmas dinner party at her home Monday night. Mrs. J. E. Simpson was assistant hostess. Following the dinner, Mrs. Ronald Meeks presided over the business meeting. Three new members were welcomed into the group; Mrs. Russell Moats, Mrs. Harry Turner and Mrs. Billy Hensel. Mrs. Verne Shaffer presented a Christmas story.

—:—

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Forest Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon in the church auditorium. The meeting opened with an organ prelude by Mrs. Joe Shields. Theme for the program, "I Would Celebrate My Lord," was given by Mrs. Helen McVitty, who also gave the call to worship. Mrs. Edward Brewster, Mrs. Joe Hougendobler, Mrs. Dana Simpson, Mrs. Corda Spearman, Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, Mrs. Vernol Stauffer, Mrs. Dick Baker, Mrs. Iva Liles and Mrs. John Ash took part in the program. Mrs. Morris Burk directed and Mrs. Shields accompanied the group singing. "World Federation of Women" was presented by Mrs. Keneth Buess. It was reported by Mrs. Omar Kear that the Study class had been finished. It was voted to purchase a new clothes dryer for the parsonage. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. McVitty. Refreshments were served by members of the Martha Circle with Mrs. William Hensel and Mrs. Darel Hueston pouring.

Senate Chapter No. 70 OES of Forest held its annual installation of officers, Dec. 10, in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Dale Kellogg was the honorary marshal. The installing officer was Mrs. Irma Nash of Kenton, district president of Kenton. Installing marshal were Mrs. Lester Price and Mrs. Ross Rocbuck; installing chaplain, Mrs. Verne Shaffer; installing conductress, Mrs. Ida Hagerman; installing warden, Mrs. Mabel Rabberman; installing sentinel, Mrs. Hagerman; installing organist, Mrs. Joe Shields.

The following officers were installed: Mrs. John Rabberman, matron; John Rabberman, patron; Mrs. Robert Thompson, associate matron; Walter Burk, associate patron; Mrs. Walter Burk, secretary; Mrs. Clinton Pine, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Waller, conductress; Mrs. Corda Spearman, associate conductress; Mrs. Gilbert Woodburn, chaplain; Mrs. Glenn March, marshal; Mrs. Russell Ohlemacher, organist; Mrs. Keneth Jury, Adah; Mrs. Wayne Bell, Ruth; Mrs. Bert Snider, Esther; Mrs. Merritt Edgington, Martha; Mrs. Billy Hensel, Electa; Mrs. Harry Farison, warden; Harold Waller, sentinel.

Mrs. Rabberman's brother, Gordon Fortney, presented her with a bouquet of roses, a gift from her officers. Mrs. Clyde Seebach sang accompanied by Mrs. Joe Shields. Mrs. Gordon Fortney and Mrs. Glenn Kellogg presided at the tea table. The social committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Don Zuber, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kellogg, Mrs. F. E. Freed, Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. Lowell McNutt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kraft and Mrs. Bertram McFarland.

Tuesday night at the regular meeting of Senate Lodge No. 378 F&AM officers were installed as follows: Lee W. Kellogg, master; J. Clinton Pine, senior warden; Norman Phillips, junior warden; Leroy V. Snider, treasurer; Morris L. Burk, secretary; H. Dale Shields, chaplain; Carl Webb, senior deacon; Gilbert Woodburn, junior deason; David Franer, senior steward; Wilbur Hurd, junior steward; Richard Willson, tyler; Glenn March, trustee. Installing officer was Dale Kellogg and installing marshal, Glenn Kellogg.

Ashley

Following the annual oyster supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bell Friday evening the Ashley Neighbors Farm Bureau Council held its regular meeting. Mrs. Hugh Cole discussed "Peace and How the Nations Can Obtain it."

—:—

Ten dollars was voted for the purchase of new choir robes for the Methodist choir at the Thursday night meeting of the Ashley Child Study Club. A gift exchange among the secret sisters was held.

One hundred and six guests attended the Silver wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 7, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goodman of Bell-Maloney Rd., southeast of Ashley. Their daughter, Mrs. Fred Kehler was hostess and was assisted by her sisters and friends. Miss Donna Mae Goodman had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Arlo Whipple presided at the gift table. Dayton Man Is Press Secretary for DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Poston, legislative correspondent for the Dayton Daily News, will be press secretary for Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle.

In addition to serving as DiSalle's press secretary, Poston will do research and have other administrative duties in the new Democratic administration.

As press secretary in the new governor's office, Poston will be the successor to Hal W. Conefry, who has been Gov. C. William O'Neill's press secretary.

Poston's job as legislative correspondent for the News, which he had held since 1954, will be taken over by Dick O'Hara, News staff writer.

RONALD J. HARVEY
Heads Manufacturing Services

Harvey Elevated To New Post by Power Shovel Co.

The appointment of Ronald J. Harvey as superintendent of manufacturing services for Marion Power Shovel Co. was announced today by John A. Wettergreen, MPS vice president in charge of manufacturing.

In his new position, Mr. Harvey will be responsible for developing material handling methods, tool control and tool room operations and manufacturing and engineering liaison. He joined MPS this spring after three years as chief industrial engineer for another shovel manufacturer. Prior to his new assignment, he was staff assistant to Mr. Wettergreen.

A native of Dublin, Ireland, Mr. Harvey holds a British National Engineering Certificate from Chester Technical College, and a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Manchester University, both in England. His work experience includes service in various manufacturing and industrial engineering capacities with companies in England, Canada, and the United States. He is a member of the American Society of Tool Engineers and the American Society of Industrial Engineers.

Galion Council Opposes State Income Tax Plan

GALION — The City of Galion is sending a motion to Gov-elect Michael V. DiSalle noting that Galion is opposed to a state income tax. The motion was made by Councilman Robert Smith and approved by all members of City Council Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the city lawmakers.

The motion went on to say that if the state should enact a state income tax it should not preempt authority in cities where a city income tax has already been enacted. Galion has a city income tax of one-half of one per cent which is due for renewal this month.

ONE-TENTH OF a mill was dropped in the new amounts and rates required from general property taxation, it was noted in the resolution council passed accepting the amounts and rates as recommended by the Crawford County Budget commission. The total will be four mills this year instead of 4.1 mills as in the past. The decrease is due to increased valuation and addition of new real estate. The rates adopted are: 3.7 mills inside the 10 mill limitation and .3 of a mill outside the limitation, it was pointed out by Gloyd Frye, city auditor.

Council was asked to extend the corporate limits on the west side for annexation of the Hessenauer allotment, Cemco Industries, the Jacob Schnegelsberger property and also the Renschville School. No action was taken on the proposal at last night's meeting.

A petition read by Clerk Lawrence Maidens had 22 signers asking that Hensley Ave. not have its name change because it does not present confusion with any other street. The petition was placed on file.

THE MAYOR'S REPORT of collections for November totaled $780.

First reading was given an ordinance establishing the position of a special policewoman to serve without compensation and at the jurisdiction of the police chief. It authorizes the service director to make the appointment and specifies that the policewoman would be subject to the same rules and regulations as other members of the police department and that she would be entitled to the same relief provisions.

Galion Saving $45,000 On New Electric Facility

GALION—A saving of $45,000 on contracts for construction of substation No. 3 of Galion electric distribution system was announced today by Mayor Edward H. Jones.

In making the announcement the mayor said the saving was noted in a report by Paul Sells, superintendent of the electric light department of Galion.

The original estimate by engineers for the work was $180,000 while the report showed the work is being done for $135,389. It was made possible, the mayor said, because of competitive bidding during the recession. The city was blessed with "lucky timing," he said.

Kenton Man Gets Fine, Jail Term Is Suspended

KENTON — A Kenton man was fined $525 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail Tuesday, but $500 and the jail term were suspended on condition of good behavior.

Charles T. Smith, 35, of Kenton was charged by Deputy Sheriff James Baldridge with drunk and disorderly conduct and resisting arrest and abusing an officer.

Baldridge reported he was called Monday night to the VFW Club here where Smith reportedly was trying to start a fight. Baldridge said that when he tried to remove Smith from the premises Smith struck him, breaking the deputy's glasses and wrist watch.

In Municipal Court Tuesday Smith pleaded guilty to both charges. He was fined $25 and costs on the drunk and disorderly charge and fined $500 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail on the resisting arrest and abusing an officer charge. The court suspended the latter fine and jail term.

Junior Group Meets

Christmas stories told by Mrs. Alfreda Gast highlighted a meeting of the Junior Red Cross Monday afternoon in the basement of the Junior Red Cross building. Mrs. M. S. Olson told the members how to make Christmas cards and also tree ornaments. The roll call of schools showed only 12 representatives absent. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN LOVING memory of William Standley Lynch who passed away December 17, 1953.
The month of December again is here,
Day by day our thoughts do wonder,
To a grave not far away,
Where we layed our dear son and brother,
Just five years ago today.
Father, Mother and Sisters.

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

SAVANNAH, I THOUGHT I'D BETTER TELL YOU I'M SORRY I WAS SO GLIB ABOUT HAVING TO CLIP BUDDY PYLGRIM
OH, HE CAME AROUND OKAY, STEVE! I LEFT HIM AT HIS APARTMENT WITH SOME NEWSPAPER PEOPLE HE HAD PHONED BEFORE THE FLIGHT...
MILTON CANIFF
I WONDER IF I COULD COME ON--
WOULD YOU HOLD IT A SECOND STEVE? MY OTHER PHONE IS RINGING AND THE SERVANTS ARE OFF..
SAVANNAH, I JUST FINISHED TALKING WITH THE SWEDISH COMPANY--THE DEAL IS SET...
DID YOU GET THE PERCENTAGE WE ASKED? HOW ABOUT THE BILLING?
NO SWEAT, SWEETHEART --YOU PLAY THIS LATIN-TYPE PRINCESS WHO IS SHIPWRECKED IN SWEDEN DURING THE REIGN OF KING SOME-THING OR OTHER
--AND YOU MELT THE SNOW ALL THE WAY TO THE NORTHERN LIGHTS!

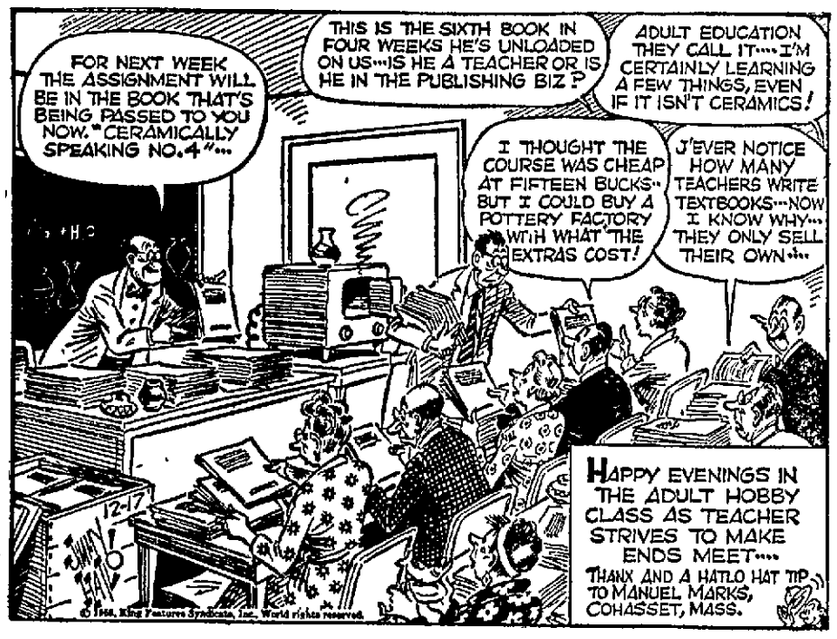
THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME By Jimmy Hatlo



FOR NEXT WEEK THE ASSIGNMENT WILL BE IN THE BOOK THAT'S BEING PASSED TO YOU NOW. "CERAMICALLY SPEAKING NO. 4"....
THIS IS THE SIXTH BOOK IN FOUR WEEKS HE'S UNLOADED ON US---IS HE A TEACHER OR IS HE IN THE PUBLISHING BIZ?
ADULT EDUCATION THEY CALL IT---I'M CERTAINLY LEARNING A FEW THINGS, EVEN IF IT ISN'T CERAMICS!
I THOUGHT THE COURSE WAS CHEAP AT FIFTEEN BUCKS--BUT I COULD BUY A POTTERY FACTORY WITH WHAT THE EXTRAS COST!
J'EVER NOTICE HOW MANY TEACHERS WRITE TEXTBOOKS---NOW I KNOW WHY--- THEY ONLY SELL THEIR OWN---
HAPPY EVENINGS IN THE ADULT HOBBY CLASS AS TEACHER STRIVES TO MAKE ENDS MEET....

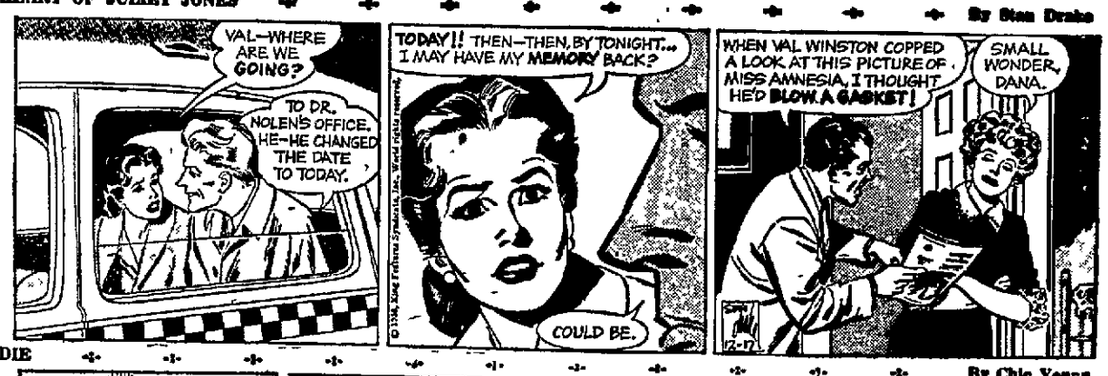
THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake



VAL--WHERE ARE WE GOING?
TO DR. NOLEN'S OFFICE. HE--HE CHANGED THE DATE TO TODAY.
TODAY!! THEN--THEN, BY TONIGHT... I MAY HAVE MY MEMORY BACK?
COULD BE.
WHEN VAL WINSTON COPPED A LOOK AT THIS PICTURE OF MISS AMNESIA, I THOUGHT HE'D BLOW A GASKET!
SMALL WONDER, DANA.

RING
OH, DEAR--THE PHONE WOULD RING WHILE I'M BUSY MENDING
I'LL ANSWER IT
NO--COME BACK--IT'S PROBABLY FOR ME--I'LL ANSWER IT
OW

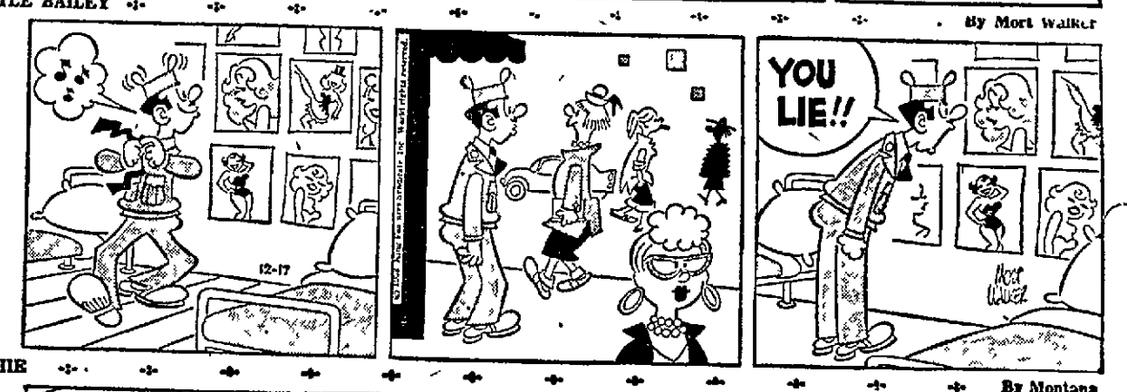
DICK TRACY By Chester Gould

NO, MOTHER-- DON'T TRY TO OUT-MANEUVER US-- WE CAN MOVE FASTER THAN YOU CAN.
LOOK--MRS. JONES, I'LL LEAVE--AND LEAVE FOR GOOD, IF THAT'S THE WAY IT'S GOT TO BE! --I'LL GO.
IF HEADACHE LEAVES, I'LL LEAVE. YOU'LL NEVER SEE ME AGAIN, MOTHER, NEVER! IT'LL BE AS THOUGH YOU NEVER HAD A DAUGHTER.
YOU CAN STAY HERE WITH YOUR OLD SLOT MACHINES AND YOUR SYNDICATE AND YOUR CRIME-- ALL ALONE.

BEETLE BAILEY By Mort Walker



ARCHIE By Montana

A FULL-LENGTH MIRROR FOR ONLY FIVE DOLLARS??
YES! AT THE AUCTION DOWN ON THE BOARDWALK!
SURE, I'LL TAKE IT! MARY HAS ALWAYS WANTED ONE!
PUT IT RIGHT IN THE HALL TO SURPRISE YOUR MOTHER!

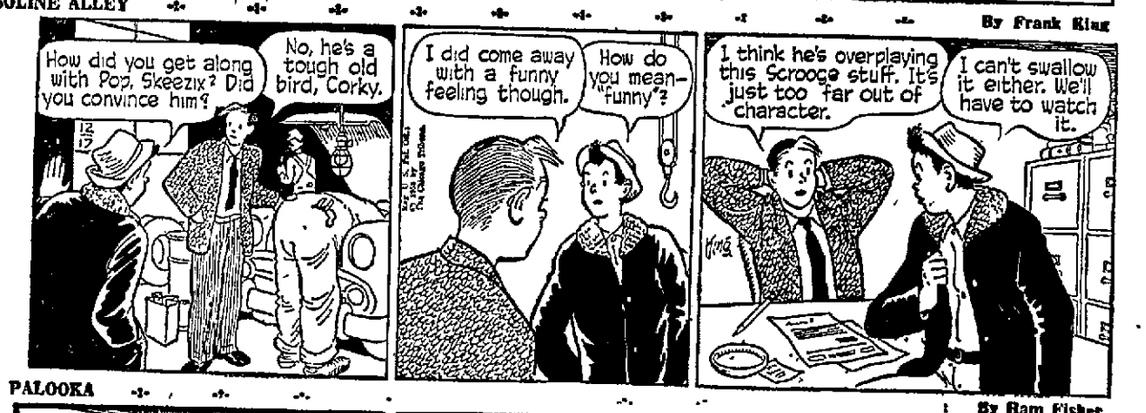
GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King



How did you get along with Pop, Skeezix? Did you convince him?
No, he's a tough old bird, Corky.
I think he's overplaying this Scrooge stuff. It's just too far out of character.
I can't swallow it either. We'll have to watch it.

JOE PALOOKA By Ham Fisher

MY NAME IS VULTURA...I LIVE HERE ALONE...ER... PRACTICALLY ALONE!
HISSSS
OH...THAT'S JUST MY PET... PLEASE MAKE YOURSELVES AT HOME WHILE I GET DINNER!
PSST--I'M GLAD THAT TH-THING IS CHAINED!
PSST...FER THE FIRST TIME IN M'LIFE I THINK I AIN'T HONGRY, JOE!
HISSSS...

TERRY AND THE PIRATES By George Wunder

AND THE NINETY-NINTH SETTLES DOWN IN ITS MAKESHIFT QUARTERS.
MAY I COME IN, MAJOR LEE?

RIP KIRBY By John Prentice

I STOLE THE EMERALD SCARAB FOR DOCTOR DESTINY, BUT WHEN I COULDN'T GET IT OUT OF THE MUSEUM, I SLIPPED IT INTO THE MUMMY CASE...
SO DESTINY PICKED IT UP IN NEW YORK AND, KILLED A GUARD DOING IT! WHERE WILL I FIND HIM?
THAT I CANNOT SAY, BUT IT WILL BE BETTER FOR YOU NOT TO KNOW. TO CROSS HIM MEANS DEATH!
I'LL CHANCE THAT! MEANWHILE, YOU'LL ANSWER TO THE AUTHORITIES HERE. NOW MARCH!

Former Robber Denied Post as Deputy Sheriff

TUCSON, Ariz (AP) — A man asking Sheriff James Clark for a job as a deputy displayed a discharge from San Quentin showing he had served time for armed robbery.

"I figure if I can't beat you, I might as well join you," the applicant told the sheriff.
